EIGHT FLOORS FOR NEW DEPOT OF SOUTHERN

Indications of Movement of Another Big Department to Atlanta.

WORK BEGUN YESTERDAY ON NEW FREIGHT HOUSE

Central Location of Atlanta and Excellent Mail Facilities Make This City an Ideal Place for the Accounting Department's Offices.

That long promised freight depot of the Southern railway in Atlanta is now an assured reality and the contract for the construction of the incoming and outgoing car sheds have been awarded to the Olliver Sollitt Company, of Chicago. Engineers were yesterday at work on the grounds of the site at the corner of Madison avenue and the Mitchell street viaduct and actual construction will begin immediately.

But what means infinitely more to Atlanta is the fact that the office building, which will front the freight depot looking on Mitchell street with entrances from the viaduct, has been changed from the original four-story affair to an eight-story building. The plans for this portion of the buildings are still in Washington and local officials insist that they cannot speak for publication regarding the report of the increased size of the office portion of the building. While they would not confirm this report, it was recognized as true, and the officials of the Atlanta railroad world yesterday spoke enthusiastically of the great benefit which this increase will mean to the city.

Advantages of Coming Here.

It will be remembered that some months ago The Constitution published the fact that the officials in Washington were considering the matter of increasing the size of the Atlanta offices in the new freight depot with the idea of bringing down a large working force of the accounting department from Washington to Atlanta. The advantages of having these accounting offices in Atlanta are obvious. As it is now, all of the reports of agents and other officials and employees have to be returned to Washington at the extreme end of this great system of nearly 8,000 miles. In the matter of handling these reports and in the correction of errors, much valuable time is lost. With the location of the accounting department in Atlanta this delay will be remedied.

Not only is Atlanta the center of the big system, but it also enjoys far better mail facilities than any other southern city. Because of these mails running in every direction, these reports can be handled in much less time and errors corrected far quicker than under the present conditions with the offices of the accounting department in Washington.

Just how much of the accounting and auditing department will be brought to Atlanta with the completion of the new eight-story office building is still a matter of conjecture. In the opinion of many of the officials the larger part of the department, or perhaps the entire department, will be moved to Atlanta. This will mean the transferring of several hundred clerks to Atlanta. Many, if not most, of these clerks in Washington are married. This means that the population of Atlanta will have a great impetus with the completion of the new building, while the advantage to merchants, real estate men and others is apparent.

Sheds to Be Built First.

The first portion of the new freight depot to be built will be the long car sheds for incoming and outgoing freight. These plans call for a shed 650 feet long for the outgoing freight and another over 700 feet long for the incoming freight. In addition there will also be many team tracks, sidings and all of the other facilities and conveniences belonging to a metropolitan freight station. A large portion of these car sheds will be two stories in height, equipped with big elevators and in this way storage room, which has been so much needed in Atlanta, will be provided. Steel, brick and ferro concrete will be used in the building of these long car sheds.

Now that work is to begin at once, it is expected that the sheds will be completed within the next six months at the latest and then the work on the new eight-story office building fronting on the Mitchell street viaduct will be pushed rapidly forward to completion.

While the plans providing for this new arrangement are still in Washington, it is stated that the architecture will be of a nature that will conform with that of the new passenger station. With the completion of this new freight station this section of Atlanta will become the great center of shipping, as the Gate City terminals with the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic and the Seaboard Air Line will be in the immediate neighborhood.

ON MOVING TRAIN COURT IS HELD

MAPLETON, COL., October 22.—Court was held on a Northwestern train at Mapleton today and Claude Fisher, accused of assaulting Miss Minnie Baker, a school teacher, was bound over to a grand jury in a $2,000 bond and taken to jail at Onawa. The authorities feared an attempt might be made to lynch Fisher, who was barely saved from a mob last night.

ABOVE THE CLOUDS, TWO AIRSHIPS RACE ACROSS TWO STATES

PITTSFIELD, MASS., October 22.—Two balloons, Centaur and L'Orient, which remained here after the aero-automobile race between balloons and automobiles for the Hawley cup, had been declared off last Saturday, participated in an endurance contest today, which carried them many miles over nothwestern Massachusetts and southern Vermont. The balloon L'Orient outsailed the Centaur by about 3½ hours, finally landing in the little mountianous town of Jamaica, in Windham county, Vermont, 57 miles from the start. The Centaur came down in Bennington, Vt., 30 miles from this city.

The balloons rose from here at 10:20 a. m. The Centaur carried Charles T. Walsh, pilot, and Major Samuel Reber and Captain Charles A. Chandler, of the signal corps, United States army. L'Orient was piloted by Leo Stevens, who had as his companion, Captain Homer W. Hedge, president of the Aero Club of America. The balloons were in sight of each other for about three hours and after them sped three automobiles, which had been entered in the Hawley cup contest on Saturday. The Centaur was slightly behind L'Orient in crossing the Vermont border, and after getting over Bennington, Pilot Walsh decided to land. The descent was successfully accomplished on the slope of Woodford mountain. The occupants of the Centaur said on landing that they considered their object accomplished and that their trip had been highly successful from a scientific standpoint. The Centaur reached a height of 6,200 feet.

After seeing the Centaur descend, Pilot Stevens, of L'Orient, decided to keep on. Twenty-seven more miles of southern Vermont was traversed and at 4:30 L'Orient came down in Jamaica. Mr. Stevens said, after alighting, that L'Orient went 8,000 feet into the air. Above the clouds the heat was so intense that all outside clothing had to be discarded. At one time the thermometer registered 106 degrees. Twenty-five minutes after the Centaur landed in Bennington an automobile, driven by Floyd Knight of this city, stopped by the side of the car. Half an hour later an automobile owned by C. F. Bishop, of Lenox, arrived on the scene.

Both these machines had followed the balloons, as an experiment, although both air ships were out of sight much of the time.

SOUTH'S IDLE BLACKS MAY BE MADE TO WORK ON THE PANAMA CANAL

WASHINGTON, October 22.—Colonel N. F. Thompson, of Chattanooga, Tenn., called at the white house today and invited President Roosevelt to attend the immigration and quarantine conference to be held in Nashville next month, and on the president's invitation, Colonel Thompson called again tonight. Upon leaving the white house tonight, Colonel Thompson said the president was obliged to decline the invitation, because he could not find it possible to attend, although he would be pleased to do so.

"While talking to the president, I made a suggestion," said Colonel Thompson, "which I told him would help to solve the labor problem on the Panama canal and at the same time help to solve the race problem in the south.

"The suggestion I made was that the idle negroes in the south be utilized for labor on the canal. No force would be required to secure their services. The better class of negroes in the south would aid the white people in securing this class of labor for construction work on the great inter-oceanic waterway. It is the idle negro that makes the trouble in the south, and it is their kind that reflects on the better class of negroes. Their presence interferes with the introduction of foreign immigrants.

"The president was impressed with the suggestion and asked me to see Secretary Taft and Chairman Shonts, of the Panama canal commission, before leaving and talk with them on the subject. I will call on them tomorrow."

MENACING NEGRO MOB SURROUNDS THEATER TO STOP "CLANSMAN"

Dixon's Play Produced at Philadelphia While Crowd of Negroes Surrounded Playhouse--Negro Ministers Headed the Crowd.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., October 22.—Under most unusual conditions "The Clansman" was produced here tonight at the Walnut Street theater. The colored clergy of the city had made a formal protest to Mayor Weaver against the production of the play, claiming that "lynching had been encouraged by the play." The mayor refused to take any action. About a half hour before the theater opened, Ninth and Walnut streets, where the playhouse is located, were packed with colored people. Director of Public Safety McKinley, who realizing the danger, had hastened to the scene, asked the ministers who seemed to have control of the mob to disperse the crowd. Patrol wagons brought half-hundred policemen to the theater. The colored ministers surrounding Director McKenley and demanded that he stop the play. The director delivered a brief speech, asking the crowd to disperse, and said that he would endeavor to have the play discontinued after tonight. This seemed to have a soothing effect on the crowd, and it slowly scattered. Early in the evening a colored man attempted to create a disturbance in the theater. He was arrested, but the police had considerable difficulty in rescuing him from the crowd in the gallery.

"I'M PROUD OF HUSBAND," MRS. BURTON DECLARES AS SENATOR GOES TO CELL

Former Representative of Kansas in United States Senate Begins Serving Term--Wife Accompanies Him to Prison.

ST. LOUIS, October 22.—Former United States Senator J. R. Burton, of Kansas, accompanied by his wife and niece, arrived here this morning from his home at Abilene and surrendered himself to begin his sentence of six months in the Ironton, Mo., jail. Apparently he has changed little since he was tried and convicted a year ago in the federal court here of having accepted $2,500 for services rendered the Rialto Grain and Security Company, of St. Louis, before the postoffice department at Washington, in a fraud order proceeding. As he stepped from the train this morning he said:

"I am feeling very well, exceedingly well, under the circumstances. Perhaps the trees, the bluffs and nature generally look sweeter to me today than they shall for some time, but I don't let myself think about that. I expect to go to Ironton today and begin the life that is laid our for me."

Former Senator Burton spent most of the forenoon in conferring with his attorney and in seeing different persons regarding the arrangement and settlemet of various business matters.

Shortly before 2 o'clock United States Marshal Morsey appeared at the Union station and Burton surrendered. There was no ceremony in the act.

Marshal Morsey simply shook hands with Burton and they talked together a few moments. Then, accompanied by Mrs. Burton and niece, Marshal Morsey and Burton entered the Iron Mountain train for Ironton. No tears were shed. Mr. and Mrs. Burton both appearing cheerful.

Mrs. Burton maintained her composure remarkably well and with spirit said: "I never was more proud of my husband than at this moment, than when he was on his way to jail," she declared at the union station. "I know who our friends are and I intend to be friendly with them, but I reserve the right to say who shall be my friends."

Burton Assigned To Cell.

Ironton, Mo., October 22.—Former United States Senator Joseph R. Burton, of Kansas, arrived from St. Louis tonight, and after dining with his wife and niece, surrendered himself to the jailer and was assigned to a cell in the Ironton jail. Mrs. Burton accompanied her husband to the sheriff's office, and then went to the cottage she rented here, where she will remai nuntil her husband has served his six months' sentence.

NEGRO PROBLEM FOR THE NATION

So Declares Bishop Walden in Address at Cincinnati.

Northern Methodist Says the Nation Must Consider Its Relation to the Negro as That of Guardian to a Ward.

Cincinnati, Ohio, October 22.—The negro problem and relief for San Francisco furnished two sensations for the Methodist miniters of this section at their weekly meeting today. As a result, President Roosevelt may be asked by the Cincinnati Methodist Episcopal Ministers' Association to give his attention to an address on the "race problem," delivered by Bishop John M. Walden, if the proposition before the association is adopted.

Bishop Walden on the Negro.

In the course of his address, Bishop Walden said:

"This country will not fulfill its objects until the nation comes to consider its relation with the negro as that of a guardian to a ward. This problem is not a problem of the north alone, nor of the south alone; it is a problem for the nation. This nation, which is so rich and powerful, must solve the race question itself. During the days before the war the idea that the negro was to have when freed his 40 acres of land from the government, was freely circulated. But, when the freedom came no 40 acres came with it.

"There are three things that enter into the negro question. The thought of implanting in the colored man the idea of industry, the idea of honesty, the idea of home-making. The colored man has been charged with laziness. The northern traveler who goes south and comes home is filled with stories of the lazy colored man he saw about the streets of southern cities. I tell you he saw but few. The colored man will make a good business man and a good citizen if we only give him the chance, but the problem is with us, individually, with the Methodist Episcopal church, collectively, and with the great United States government in a paternal sense."

Ohio Methodists Attacked.

The other sensation was an address by Rev. Dr. F. M. Larkin, of San Francisco, in which he made a bitter attack on the Methodists of Ohio, for the small amount of money that they have contributed to the stricken Methodists of San Francisco. Dr. Larkin said:

"Not only have the Ohio Methodists failed to give money to the earthquake sufferers of our faith, but they refuse even to hear me, sent here for the purpose, present the matter to them in their pulpits. It is a shame, I say. I have sent out letters to churches all over Ohio begging to be allowed to come and tell of the need of the earthquake sufferers of Methodist faith, and out of a hundred of my requests for a hearing I got three invitations.

"From San Francisco, my brother ministers write, 'Unless you send us aid we perish, we cannot preach to starving people nor tell of the goodness of God in poverty stricken homes'."

HER YEARS WERE 97; HER DESCENDANTS 97.

NEW YORK, October 22.—Mrs. Lydia W. Clark died at Victoria, N. J., Friday. She was 97 years old. Her descendants, nine children, twenty-seven grandchildren, fifty-two great-grandchildren and nine great-great-grandchildren, were exactly equal in numbers to the years of her age.

$18,000,000 FOR THE BANKS

Secretary Shaw Announces that He Will Stimulate Circulation.

New York, October 22.—Secretary Shaw authorizes the announcement that from and after Tuesday, the 23d, deposits to facilitate gold importations will be discontinued. He said in connection with the announcement that importations had exceeded his expectations, and he believed for the present America had quite its share and he had no disposition to disturb conditions in Europe by a continuation of that method of relief.

Secretary Shaw also announced that he would stimulate national bank circulation to the extent of $18,000,000 by accepting approved securities other than government bonds for deposits already made, the bonds released to be used immediately as a basis of circulation without withdrawal from the treasury. He does not object to the assignment of the bonds to other banks than those now holding them, but to insure their use they must remain in the treasury, and in addition the bank taking out the circulation must agree to retire the same between the 15th day of March and the 10th day of April, 1907. The banks will be required, when taking out their circulation, to make application for its retirement, and the order or per cent of retirement from month to month will be determined by the treasury department.

In this way $18,000,000 of additional circulation can be immediately issued and gradually retired during the spring and summer months. In this way also Secretary Shaw expects to demonstrate, in limited form, the benefits of an elastic currency.

Convention Will Be the Largest Held in Atlanta This Year.

CONVENTION WILL START WITH A MORNING SESSION

All the Hotels in the City Are Crowded With Guests, Who Engaged Rooms Months Ahead of Time—8,000 People Expected.

The Kimball House, the Piedmont, the Aragon and, in fact, all of the principal hotels of Atlanta are wearing a gala look in honor of the coming of the Carriage Builders' National Association, which meets at Piedmont Park for its opening session this morning.

The Kimball House, where the headquarters of Secretary Elliott Dunn is located, is particularly attractive. Banners of all kinds are afloat to the breeze; emblems suggestive of the organization are to be seen on all sides, while the office of Secretary Dunn is the scene of the greatest activity. For days and weeks Mr. Dunn has been one of the busiest men in the city. Last night he was all but fagged out with the multitudinous duties which he has had to attend to, but he will be in fine fettle today and will be attending to other and more trying tasks.

The convention which holds is opening session in the auditorium at Piedmont Park today will be the largest ever held in this city—possibly the largest ever held in the south. At the rate delegates were arriving yesterday it can be safely estimated that 8,000 persons, including the female contingent, will be in Atlanta today. Every hotel in the city will be packed and jammed to its capacity.

As an evidence of the eagerness which people feel in the convention, rooms were engaged at least two months ahead by prospective delegates.

President Arrives.

Conservative estimates at 9 o'clock last night placed the number of delegates who had arrived at 4,000. It is impossible, however, to state at this time exactly how many have arrived for the reason that the registration books are at Piedmont Park and comparatively few delegates have gone to Piedmont Park thus far. The various secretaries will be kept busy today looking after the visitors who will continue to arrive all during the day.

President Has Arrived.

The most notable of the delegates to arrive yesterday was A. G. Brunsman, president of the Carriage Builders' National Association, who arrived on a special train of eight cars from Cincinnati.

At 12 o'clock yesterday an executive meeting of the various reception committees was held at the Kimball house and the final details were gone over and everything adjusted.

The social side of the convention is going to outshine anything of the kind ever given in this city. The several committees have worked indefatigably. Nothing has been left undone and the delegates are assured a splendid time.

Rich Convention.

Fully $125,000,000 is the conservative estimate placed on the wealth of the delegates who will be represented at the convention. The private fortune of many of them will run well into the millions.

Lady Delegates.

Miss Mollie Gregory, Atlanta.
Miss Dorothy Harrison, Atlanta.
Mrs. L. C. Parsons, Cynwyd, Pa.
Mrs. W. R. Joyner, Atlanta.
Mary C. Moore, Atlanta.
Miss Marie Houston, Atlanta.
Mrs. Elliott Dunn, Atlanta.
Miss Cornell Dunn, Atlanta.

WHAT WAS DONE YESTERDAY.

Seventy-nine thousand dollars was raised in a short while for the capital stock of the construction company and for the purchase of bonds.

The plan of the subcommittee was unanimously adopted by the committee of twenty-five.

The construction company was named the Auditorium-Armory Company.

The subcommittee of five from the citizens' committee of twenty-five was instructed to solicit subscriptions for $250,000, and to report back to the general committee of twenty-five.

The present mayor and the mayor-elect promised to give the project their hearty support and cooperation.

A special committee was appointed to canvass Whitehall street for subscriptions.

The auditorium and armory is now assured beyond a shadow of doubt.

At a meeting of the citizens' committee of twenty-five yesterday at noon, $50,000 was subscribed in less than 3

J. B. MARBURY,
Local Forecaster.

In 1884 the Cuesta Rey Cigar Co. was established in Atlanta, Ga., with a small force of cigarmakers. In 1906 we have at Tampa

The Biggest Independent Factory In America

employing over 500 experts in the making of Cuesta Rey Cigars minutes for the capital stock and bonds, which are to be issued.

After the meeting adjourned the subcommittee of five did a little canvassing and the amount of $29,000 was subscribed. This makes a total of $79,000.

The whole amount to be subscribed is $250,000, of which $75,000 is to be the capital stock of the construction company, and $175,000 to go to the purchase of the bonds.

The construction company is to be known as the Auditorium-Armory Company, and is to be chartered by the whole committee of twenty-five.

Those who subscribe $4,000 will have to pay 10 per cent of the amount for the capital stock, which will be $120, as the amount subscribed is to be divided so as to devote 30 per cent to capital stock and 70 per cent to the purchase of bonds.

City Will Pay for It.

The council next year will make an appropriation of $75,000 for the first cash payment for the building and lot and this amount will be used to pay back the $120 which each subscriber has paid in. The city will assure the payment of the bonds and the subscribers will not pay nothing more.

This plan, which was devised by Attorney J. J. Spalding, avoids all legal technicalities which would have arisen if an effort had been made to get the city to incur debts for future councils to pay. pay.

The construction company will buy a lot, with the cooperation of the council, and will begin the erection of the building. Then the city will buy the property from the company, making a cash payment next year of $75,000 and appropriating each year $25,000 which will be used to take up the bonds that the company issued.

Prominent bankers, who were present at the meeting yesterday, stated that the bonds could be easily floated and money raised at once to erect the building.

Everything that the construction company does must be passed upon by the city council. When the building is bought by the city a suitable name for it will be adopted. It will probably be called the "Convention Hall."

In the building there will be a large auditorium with a seating capacity of between six and eight thousand people. There will be a fine armory, capable of giving the local military comfortable quarters.

Subscription List Started.

Yesterday when the report of the subcommittee had been read and adopted, Clark Howell started the ball rolling by making a motion that the subcommittee begin there and then to take up subscriptions.

"I make this motion," said Mr. Howell, "and subscribe $4,000 for The Constitution."

Chairman Gray subscribed $4,000 for The Journal.

Then other subscriptions were handed in until $50,000 was subscribed as follows:

Atlanta Constitution, $4,000; Atlanta Journal, $4,000; Atlanta Georgia, $4,000; D. Woodward, $4,000; Frank Hawkins, $4,000; R. J. Maddox $4,000; Southern Bell Telephone Company, $4,000; J. E. Murphy, $4,000; Sam D. Jones, $4,000; C. E. Caverly, $4,000; E. R. DuBose, $4,000; Peters Land Company, $4,000; Clifford L. Anderson, $2,000; making a total of $50,000, which was raised in less than three minutes.

Whitehall street has taken a great interest in the proposition to build an auditorium and armory and will no doubt make a large contribution to the underwriting syndicate. The following committee has been appointed and will take up the matter actively tomorrow morning: E. R. DuBose, chairman; F. J. Paxon, Frank Inman, Lloyd Parks, W. S. Byck.

The following are the forms of the subscription blanks which were prepared by the subcommittee and adopted by the committee of twenty-five.

Bond Subscription Blank.

"The undersigned respectively subscribe for the amount in bonds of a company to be incorporated by Fulton superior court and known as Atlanta Auditorium-Armory Company, set opposite their respective names and agree to pay for the same when and as called for by said company.

"Said bonds to be secured by a first lien or deed of trust covering the ground and building to be erected by said company, which it is proposed shall be sold to the city of Atlanta; the issue not to exceed two hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars ($225,000), and said bonds to bear 5 per cent per annum interest, payable semi-annually and maturing twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) each year beginning with the year succeeding their issue, with the right to call the whole or any part of said bonds outstanding at any interest period upon giving appropriate notice.

"This subscription is to be binding when an aggregate amount of one hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars ($175,000) of said bonds are subscribed for and is made for the purpose of facilitating the building of an auditorium and armory which is to be ultimately owned by the city of Atlanta.

TIGE ANDERSON MOURNS.

Resolutions of Regret Passed on the Death of Mrs. Jefferson Varina Davis.

At a called meeting of Camp Tige Anderson No. 1455, United Confederate Veterans, October 18, 1906, the following resolutions offered by Comrade R. S. Osborne were read and adopted:

"Comrades, it is with profound sorrow that we meet today to commemorate the death of the wife of our beloved president of the confederacy, Mrs. Jefferson Varina Davis, which occurred in New York city Tuesday night, October 16, 1906, she being at the time of her death over eighty years old. Thus passes away the most distinguished woman of the confederacy. Therefore be it

Resolved first, That in the death of Mrs. Davis the confederate soldier has lost one of his best friends, a woman whom every confederate soldier and every friend of the south loved.

"Second. That we, the members of Camp Tige Anderson of Confederate Veterans, do mourn the loss of this woman, who was the mother of the confederacy, and that while we grieve the death of this woman, we believe she was ready to meet her God and that she has now entered her heavenly rest. That we may so live that when we cross over the river we may be able to greet her and her beloved husband, Jefferson Davis,

"Third. That each member of this camp wear some badge of mourning for a period of thirty days.

"Fourth. That a copy of these resolutions be spread on the minutes; that a copy be put in the daily papers of Atlanta and that a copy be furnished her daughter, Mrs. J. Addison Hayes.

THOMAS TALKS OF RAWLINGS

Solicitor Refuses to Endorse Move for Commutation.

He Reviews the Case Which Is Before the Pardon Board Today, and Tells of the Horrible Crime.

Valdosta, Ga., October 22.—(Special.)—There is a good deal of interest as well as speculation in this city and section as to the probable decision of the pardon board in the case of the Rawlings' boys, which is to be settled tomorrow. The attorneys for the defendants in the case have been getting as many letters as possible and sending them to the board urging clemency for the two men, and efforts were made to get Solicitor General Thomas to join in the request for a commutation of the sentence, but he has steadfastly refused to do so.

When asked this morning if he would endorse the applications for a commutation of sentence, Solicitor Thomas said:

Cold Blooded Conspiracy.

"No, I cannot do it. Conditions of distress always appeal to me, but an awful crime has been committed. These people, in company with a negro, pursuant to a cold-blooded and horrible conspiracy, approached the home of a neighbor at night for the purpose of killing, not only inoffending and unsuspecting parents, but helpless and innocent children as well. Two children who chanced to go into the yard where a noise was heard were shot down and then in the very presence of death and the dying, effort after effort was made to murder the other inmates of the home, numbering a half a dozen people, and these efforts continued throughout almost the entire night, the assailant being kept off by a shotgun in the hands to a cripple father in the house.

Separate Juries Passed On It.

"Separate juries have passed upon the two cases, and sworn jurors, in the county where the crime was committed, acting conscientiously in the interest of law and order, have determined the fate of those convicted. They heard the evidence and knew the surroundings, and while some good people have appealed in behalf of these men, I do not think it would be right for us to say that the jurors had done wrong unless I knew such to be arue, and I do not.

"The people in the country have no police protection. The only protection accorded them is the positive assurance that the law will be enforced. The people seem to have had confidence in the courts in the present instance, and any arbitrary effort on my part to undo, without a good reason, what has been done by the courts, it seems to me, would justify a lack of confidence in the good faith and sincerity of the courts. Besides all of this, the cases were well tried, and more than a year has been consumed in technical objections, apparently without merit, yet resulting in this delay—some say to give time for sentiment to intervene. If this be true, I could not be a party to making a premium for such delays."

Has Fought with Energy.

Solicitor Thomas has fought the case with great energy before the tribunals which have to deal with questions of law and fact, but he has ont appeared before the pardon board in the case and will not do so.

He left this morning for Thomasville to represent the state in the prosecution of a young business man of Boston, Ga., who is accused of killing an Egyptian who was with a carnival trope there some time ago. It is said that the tragedy was the result of a few words over the price of pie, which the former was buying, he claiming that the merchant was charging him more than had been charged other members of the aggregation.

PIOUS CHILDREN ACCUSE FATHER

KOKOMO, IND., October 22.—A warrant was issued tonight for the arrest of B. F. Wilkinson, a wealthy farmer, charged with burning a barn and six horses of his neighbor, William Devore. Wilkinson was indicted on the testimony of his own children. The young people were recently converted at a church revival and say their consciences prompted them to incriminate him.

SOPHS. FIRST IN RELAY RACE

The Annual Event at Emory Yesterday Drew Large Crowd.

Emory College, Oxford, Ga., October 22.—(Special.)—The relay race, an annual occurrence, was run this afternoon between the five classes. More interest was taken in it this year than ever before. People from the surrounding towns and country flocked to see it, and the last mile which was finished on the track was charachterized by college yells and general whooping, etc.

The start, 9 miles from Oxford, was followed up by Professor F. C. Brown and Profesor F. P. Hanner. The runners tried to laud it over the freshmen, who were in the minority. For a few minutes there was a very hard fight. Wilson, of the sophomore class, '09, came in first; Blalock, of the junior class '08, came second; Rumble, of the freshman class '10, came third; Greer, of the sub class '11, came fourth, and Beckley, of the seniors, brought up the rear.

The junior class '08, won for the last two years, and came very near winning this year.

The following men did the most sensational running of the even:

Blalock, '08; McGregor, '07; P. C. Kin, '07; Devoar, '08; Sam Green, '03; Candler, '07; Werenbaker, '07; Heard, '08.

Judges were placed at each mile to time the runners.

BARRETT TALKS TO THE CONGRESS

Farmers' Union President Addresses Gathering at Topeka.

Object of Cooperative Congress Is to Unite the Farmers of the West and the South in Effort to Get Better Prices for Products.

Topeka, Kans., October 22.—The farmers' cooperative business congress, with a large attendance of delegates from the western and southwestern states, met here today. C. W. Peckham, of Haven, Kans., president of the Farmers' Elevator Association of Kansas, speaking of the congress, said:

"Our purpose in calling this kind of a meeting is to more closely unite the agriculture interests of the west and south. It is not our intention to organize a trust of the farmers. It has been said that it is the purpose to increase the price of wheat at stated amounts. This we intend to do, but not by organizing and demanding that consumers pay that for our produce. If we can sell our products to the southern associations at a higher price than we receive from the middle men and can enable the southern producers to hold their produce, we will work out a plan whereby the price of farm produce will naturally work higher."

C. S. Barrett, of Atwater, Ga., president of the National Farmers' Union, in an address said:

"In the south we have raised the price of cotton to 11 cents. We have built warehouses and hold our cotton till the price is right. We gin our own cotton and have cotton mills, woolen mills and canneries, all owned by the farmers. The farmers in the north can do the same with their crops."

Manager Has Resigned.

Knoxville, Tenn., October 22.—(Special.) Randolph Adams, for the past eight years manager for the Tennessee Copper Company's mines and smelters at Ducktown and Copper Hill, Tenn., near the Georgia line, has tendered his resignation, effective in about ten days. Macon, Ga., October 22.—(Special.)—W. D. Brown, a farmer living at Milner, Ga., was brought here tonight by Revenue Officers C. L. Higal and E. L. Bergstrom under charge of defrauding the government in the making of brandy at his farm. The officers charged that he failed to acounut for all his goods so that duty could be collected and the farmer will answer to the charge in a hearing before Commissioner L. M. Eywin on October 29.

"Ever since the war I have suffered intensely with kidney and bladder trouble in its worst form, and despaired of ever finding permanent relief. HE STOLE "GIRL KNITTING;" WAS CAUGHT WITH GOODS

NEW YORK, October 22.—A valuable oil painting entitled "Girl Knitting," which was stolen from the art gallery in Eden Park, Cincinnati, on October 6, was recovered here today. A young man who gave his name as Clarendon Henri, was arrested when he attempted to dispose of the picture to a Fifth avenue art dealer. Henri first visited the dealer last Saturday and suspicion was aroused when he demanded $250 for a painting which apparently had been cut from its frame. The dealer told Henri that he did not have the money at that time, but that he would have it if the young man would call today. When Henri had left the store, the dealer made an investigation, and learned that the picture had been stolen. Then he notified the police, and detectives were waiting for Henri when he called at the Fifth avenue establishment today. Henri told the police that the picture was given him by a man in Berlin, Germany.

The police say that Henri is wanted by the St. Louis police. He was arraigned in court as a fugitive from justice and held without bail.

Although the picture was stolen two weeks ago, the fact was kept from the newspapers until last Friday. "Girl Knitting" was a small Dusseldorf highly prized.

WORLD POLITICS—THE EDITOR'S DIARY

For Sale Everywhere Price 25 Cents

ARRANGEMENTS ARE PERFECTED

For Episcopal Missionary Conference on November 6-8.

Captain R. P. Hobson Will Make an Address at the Conference, and All the Railways in the South Will Give Rates.

COLUMBIA, S. C., October 22.—(Special.)—The committee in general charge of the preliminaries of the great annual conference of the fourth missionary department of the Episcopal church of the south has finally perfected all arrangements for the meeting. It has persuaded all southern railways to give a one fare round-trip rate plus 25 cents, from any point in South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama and Mississippi. These low rates are to be put on sale at all points on November 4 and 5, and will be good returning up to the night of November 9. The days of the conference are November 6-8. This will guarantee a large attendance.

In addition to this tremendous "drawing" card, the committee has obtained the consent of Captain R. P. Hobson to make an address at the conference. In order to meet the wishes of the committee, Captain Hobson canceled one of his lecture engagements in North Carolina at considerable pecuniary sacrifice. He will speak on the night of November 7. The subject for that evening will be "What Should be the Church's Inspiration in Her Influence on Heathen Civilization?" The general discussion of the topic will be made by the Rev. Josiah B. Perry, of Natchez, Miss., and Captain Hobson will consider the same subject, "As Seen in the Light of World Movements Today."

An act of courtesy and consideration on the part of Thomas Dixon will materially add to the success of the conference. He has offered to give up the performance of his play for the scheduled night and turn over the opera house to the conference without charge.

An unexpected piece of good luck has fallen to the committee, which will enable it to add a new and remarkably interesting feature to the programme. This is the consent of the Rev. Dr. William C. Brown, the distinguished missionary to Brazil, to attend the conference and make an address on mission work in this great and promising field. Bishop Capers has said that Dr. Brown is one of the most eloquent and impressive speakers he has ever heard, and his reputation for successful work and exhaustless knowledge of his vast territory are guarantees of a brilliant and effective address.

In speaking editorially of the conference, The New York Churchman says: "It is doubtful if any other meeting of our church in the south has ever brought together so large an assembly of distinguished men as will attend and take part in the sessions of the second annual conference of the fourth department." This is only one of hundreds of similar expressions from leading churchmen and church organs as to the assured success and tremendous interest of the conference.

One thing should be called to the attention of all who are thinking of coming to the conference. This is the inexpensiveness of the trip and the stay in this city. There will be only one fare, with 25 cents added, for the journey. All entertainment here will be free. With these considerations, and the unequaled attractiveness of the conference programme, a tremendous gathering is certain.

MERCHANT SHOOTS NEGRO.

Negro Was Injured Painfully, but Not Dangerously.

Moran, Ga., October 22.—(Special.)—J. N. McCallum, a prominent merchant and farmer of Montpelia, about 3 miles east of here, shot Charles Williams, a negro, with a pistol this morning. Mr. McCallum had a difficulty early this morning and the above negro with several others went back for a settlement. When they reached him and made known their business he promptly opened fire, with the result of a flesh wound that was painful but not dangerous. The community is quiet, and no further disorder is expected.

ARE AFTER STANDARD OIL.

Denver Merchants Also Complain of Railroad Discrimination.

Washington, October 22.—The Merchant's Traffic Association, of Denver, filed a complaint with the interstate commerce commission today, the defendants being a number of western railroads.

The long and short haul question and incidentally the Standard Oil Company figure in the complaint. Instances of alleged excessive freight rates are mentioned.

It is pointed out in the petition that no such discrimination is practiced in the transportation of oil, the rates to Colorado and Utah points from Chicago being identical because, the petition alleges, the Standard Oil Company, "by reason of its great power and influence, has been able to exact from the said defendant railroads a due observance of the said act of congress for the regulation of interstate commerce."

The interestate commerce commission is requested to compel the defendants to give Colorado points a just rate.

TO FIGHT CASTRO WITH BOGUS COIN

Revolution in Venezuela to Be Financed With Counterfeit.

Captain Boynton, Who Was to Make the Bogus Silver, Gets a Sentence of Six Months From the United States Court.

New York, October 22.—Captain George Boynton pleaded guilty today in the United States circuit court to the charge of being a party to a plan for counterfeiting silver coins of Venezuela for the purpose of financing a revolution in that country. He was sentenced to six months in the King's county penitentiary.

When arrested Captain Boynton produced papers to show that he was in New York as the special commissioner of a Venezuelan revolutionary party, and that it was his purpose to finance a revolution by making up duplicate silver dollars of the same fineness and intrinsic value as those issued by the government, which would be legalized by act of the junta when the present government of Venezuela was overthrown.

Captain Boynton took his sentence philosophically, saying:

"I guess I was technically guilty, although we never intended to make any money in this country. I did not know that having dies alone was a crime.

BANKERS ARE NOT WORRIED

Bank of England's Contemplated Move Not Regarded With Concern.

New York, October 22.—Wherever brokers and financiers met yesterday, chiefly in clubs like the Union, Metropolitan and Union League, what amounted practically to informal conferences on the monetary situation took place. Bankers generally expressed hopeful views as to the outcome of the present money situation.

The cabled reports that the Bank of England contemplated a further increase of the discount rate from 6 to 7 per cent if we continue to drain the banks of gold resources, were not regarded with concern, judging from interviews which were obtained from The New York Times.

President Warner Van Norden, of the Van Norden Trust Company, had this to say of the situation: "Of course the conditions that now face the gold borrowers in London will affect us considerably, but I do not see any reason for fearing trouble. The finances for our crop moving have been pretty well supplied already and the American markets will soon adjust themselves to the new conditions."

A. Barton Hepburn, president of the Chase National Bank, took an optimistic view. He was unable, he said, to recall a time when there "were fewer clouds on the horizon."

"From a banking point of view the situation is excellent," said Mr. Hepburn. "No legitimate business need fear depression. A few operators may have trouble in renewing their loans as they would like to, but as for any general lowering of credit or financial storm, I think it impossible."

President William Nash, of the Cotton Exchange Bank, says:

"The raising of the interest taxes by the Bank of England will not affect this country to any etxent. We have plenty of money."

Middle-Aged White Man Exhumed Near Waynesville Had on Kid Gloves.

Waynesville, Ga., October 22.—(Special.) While at work on the two-mile spur track of the Wayne Brick Company, the section gang dup up the body of an unknown white man of middle age. The body was found about two miles west of here. The man wore kid gloves. His head and face appeared to have been very badly beaten with a heavy stick. From his appearance he had been buried about two days. The coroner will investigate.

SILVEIRA SEEMS TO BE SAFE.

United States Will Hardly Be Able to Get Absconder.

Washington, October 22.—The United States can take no steps to bring about the extradition of Silveira, the Cuban banker wanted in Havana and now said to be in Caraccas. There is no extradition treaty between the republic of Cuba and Venezuela and the United States cannot interfere in any way in the case according to state department officials, who insist that the relations of this government to Cuba are not such as to justify American participation in any manner to have Silveira extradited. Consequently Governor Magoon, of Cuba, may ask President Castro, of Venezuela, to permit Silveira to be taken by Cuban authorities, but the outcome is dependent entirely upon the will of President Castro.

SENT UP FOR TWENTY YEARS

Assaulter Was Arrested, and Plead Guilty--Sentenced in Short Time.

Montgomery, Ala., October 22.—Herman Thompson, the negro who attempted to ravish little Callie Belle Cain Friday and for whom posses have been scouring Alabama ever since, is serving a twenty year sentence at Pratt mines penitentiary.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon the negro was slipped into the Montgomery city court room, pleaded guilty to his crime, was taken to the depot and was put on a special train to Pratt mine, which had right of way to its destination.

Since his crime was committed Thompson has been in hiding carefully guarded by deputy sheriffs. At a conference with the state officials and Judge W. H. Thomas, of the city court, today, Sheriff W. R. Walls said that for days he has been shadowed by a posse and advised that immediate action be taken. The negro was taken from his hiding place and placed in a buggy with a private citizen. He drove the citizen to the court house, alighted, hitched the horse and proceeded to the court room, where he was met by Judge Thomas, the prosecuting attorney, the clerk of the court and a number of armed deputies. He pleaded guilty and was given the highest sentence, twenty years.

Thompson again assumed the role of the buggy boy and drove to the union depot, where a special train was waiting, accompanied by four deputies. He was then taken to Pratt mines.

CHEROKEE SUPERIOR COURT

Convened Yesterday at Canton—Senator Clay Spoke.

Canton, Ga., October 22.—The August or fall term of Cherokee superior court convened here today, Judge George F. Gober presiding. While this is the regular two-weeks' term of Cherokee court, yet the business of court will probably be completed and all cases on the docket tried that are ready for trial by Thursday next, and court adjourn to the spring term. Cherokee is in fine shape morally and financially, and has very little litigation in the courts, with a low rate of taxation and good roads making. Hon. James V. Keith is serving as foreman of the grand jury, with Ben F. Perry as clerk.

Senator A. S. Clay made a forty minutes' speech at the noon hour of court today in giving an account of his stewardship as junior senator from this state and in an account of some of the more important legislation passed and now pending before congress. His speech was well received, being forceful and interesting throughout. Senator Clay said the last congress did more for the American people than any previous session of congress or, indeed, the congresses for the past several years, but that some very important legislation was carried over that will still further add to the good work of the national lawmakers when passed.

HE IS HELD FOR FEDERAL JURY

Trial at Macon of Man Who Is Charged With Fraud.

Macon, Ga., October 22.—(Special.)—R. R. Gordon, who claims to have worked as aganet for a New York building, loan and investment company, was placed under heavy bond before United States Commissioner L. M. Erwin today under charge of devising schemes to defraud through the mails. The case worked up by Post-office Inspector W. B. Matt reveals a smooth scheme by which it is charged many citizens in south Georgia were swindled. Gordon resided at Helena and claimed to have done business throughout the adjoining territory. The plan disclosed by the authorities was an offer to secure large loans on real estate, a small advancement of fees for examining titles and other expenses was secured. Under this plan, a Dublin citizen spent on advance as high as $125. Gordon was said to have worked through an attorney in Savannah, whose name was given as Mace. The inspector found that letters had gone from Gordon to the address, and that later Gordon had ordered the same letters forwarded to him at Helena. Gordon was first arrested at Albany, where he was charged with cheating and swindling. A long hearing today in Macon resulted in his detention for action of the federal grand jury.

FIGHT OVER OELRICHS' WILL.

Amicable Adjustment Is Said to Be Likely.

New York, October 22.—The threatened contest over the will of Herman Oelrichs, which leaves his entire estate to his brother and sister, cutting off his widow and 15-year-old son, probably will be amicably adjusted, according to a statement made today by Mrs. Oelrichs' counsel. The will was to have come up for probate today, after being adjourned several times, but Mrs. Oelrichs was not ready today and her counsel, James W. Gerard, asked for another adjournment. It was granted, October 24 being fixed as the date. At the conclusion of the brief court session today Mr. Gerard said that there probably will be a settlement.

ATLANTA BUSINESS MEN TAKE THE FIRST STEP FOR MARKET EXCHANGE

Committee Appointed to Confer With Business Interests of the City.

EXCHANGE UNDER CONTROL OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

President Jones Announced That Chamber of Commerce Stands Ready To Meet Merchants Half Way, Paying Proportionate Share of Rent.

Atlanta is to have a market exchange, to whose members telegraphic quotations on stocks, bonds, securities, provisions, grain, cotton and oil will be supplied under the auspices of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce. Commercially considered, this is one of the most important undertakings projected for years in this city.

This enterprise had its inception last night at a Dutch supper given by George W. Parrott, to which men representing the various business interests of Atlanta had been invited as his guests to discuss the desirability and feasibility of inaugurating such a service, the necessity for which will be virtually imperative on and after January 1, when the Boykin anti-bucketshop law becomes operative, and only legitimate exchanges of the character of the one contemplated will be permitted to operate in this state.

After thorough discussion of the needs of the business community for such a market service, upon motion, President Sam D. Jones, of the Chamber of Commerce, who was made temporary chairman of the meeting, appointed committees to confer with the particular business interests with which they are connected to meet next Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the offices of the Atlanta Compress company, on the sixteenth floor of the Candler building, the use of which was generously tendered by C. C. Hansen, representing the corporation, to confer and determine what quotations are needed, the cost of quarters, telegraphic service, clerk hire, etc., after which this committee is to hold a conference with a standing committee of the Chamber of Commerce, of which R. L. Foreman is chairman, and to which it will make a definite proposition.

The Chamber of Commerce, as announced by President Jones at the meeting last night, stands ready to meet the merchants who desire this service more than half way. Its present quarters are utterly inadequate for its present necessities, and the lack of room and its inaccessibility and remoteness from the business center of the city utterly precludes its use for market exchange purposes. However, the Chamber of Commerce, through President Jones, announced that that body had taken under consideration, at the request of the business men of Atlanta, the question of establishing the market exchange under its auspices, and now offered to furnish the service to its members at actual cost. Whatever the rent of quarters may be, the Chamber of Commerce will pay its proportionate share, safeguarding the service and endeavoring to protect its members in connection with the operation of the service, and charging only actual cost of service. Of course, as Mr. Jones explained, the $20 per annum now paid to the Chamber of Commerce by its members is entirely absorbed in the particular field in which that organization is engaged, and the expense of maintaining the market exchange service must be paid for by additional subscriptions by members of the Chamber of Commerce, who will enjoy its advantages and privileges.

Committees Are Named.

After general discussion, on motion of C. B. Howard, Chairman Sam D. Jones appointed the following committee, selected from the several business interests of the city, to meet next Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock to confer and agree upon what was needed to inaugurate the exchange, to ascertain the cost and to make a proposition to the Chamber of Commerce to carry out the undertaking:

Cotton—George W. Parrott and J. S. Akers.

Grain—W. S. Duncan and A. P. Morgan.

Cotton Oil—L. A. Ransom and W. L. Schroeder.

Brokers—J. R. Andrews and Joseph Gregg.

Stock and Bond Brokers—Darwin G. Jones and Roby Robinson.

Cotton Mills—Samuel A. Carter and F. I. Stone.

Compress—C. C. Hanson.

Produce—W. O. Stamps and H. N. McCullough.

Wholesale Grocers—Mr. Coleman and Harry Hightower.

Banks—Robert F. Maddox and Frank Hawkins.

General Business Interests—H. F. Inman and Dr. J. D. Turner.

Dry Goods—D. O. Dougherty and R. H. White.

Meats—T. R. Sawtell and C. Walpheuer

Newspapers—F. L. Seely and Charles Daniel.

By acclamation, George W. Parrott and Charles Daniel were made chairman and secretary, respectively, of these committees.

The invitation extended by Mr. Parrott to the gentlemen who met last night designated the Piedmont hotel as the meeting place, but inasmuch as the convention hall at the hotel has been converted into a series of bedrooms, by the means of curtains and double-decked beds, at the last hour the Gate City Guards' old armory on Peachtree street was utilized.

From fifty to seventy-five prominent business men were present and enjoyed the palatable viands provided by George W. Parrott, immediately after which President Sam D. Jones, of the Chamber of Commerce, was called to the chair, and Walter G. Cooper made secretary of the meeting, which was opened by the chairman stating its purpose and inviting general and informal discussion.

This was led by John E. Cays, L. A. Ransom, F. L. Seely, Walter G. Cooper, Samuel A. Carter, W. L. Fain, David Woodward, H. C. Hanson, George W. Parrott, Dr. J. D. Turner, C. B. Howard, Charles Daniel, Harry Schlesinger, Darwin G. Jones, H. H. Whitcomb and others, all of whom made valuable and pertinent suggestions as to the method of setting the the undertaking afoot, which crystallized in the appointment of the committees above named.

The following business men were participants in the meeting last night and pledged their support and subscriptions for the money necessary to establish the market service desired: J. S. Akers, W. L. Fain, W. S. Duncan, A. J. Kiser, A. W. Hodnett, C. S. Matthews, E. E. Smith, B. H. Dunn, Jr., Richard Cheatham, Samuel A. Carter, C. B. Howard, C. C. Hanson, J. D. Turner, F. R. Logan, N. E. Murphy, George W. Parrott, David Woodward, John E. Cay, T. B. Blake, H. H. Whitcomb, L. A. Ransom, C. H. Adams, W. M. Hutchinson, A. C. Wooley, E. A. Holbrook, J. C. Hanson, Charles Daniel, Dudley Glass and others.

SOUTHERN PLANS TO GET NEW MEN

Thirty More Men Walked Out in Knoxville.

Reliable Report States That Boiler Makers Will Be Next To Quit. Strikers in Atlanta Are Doing Nothing.

Knoxville, Tenn., October 22.—General Manager H. B. Spencer, of the Southern railway, admitted tonight that the road has decided to employ new men to take the places of the striking machinists in various shops over the system. Thirty or more men walked out of the Southern shops at this point today, they being eleven machinists, foremen, fifteen blacksmiths and five apprentices. It is reliably reported tonight that the boiler makers will be the next to go out.

It was in executive session the steering committee of the Atlanta machinists, who walked out of the Southern railway machine shops three weeks ago, heard what J. S. Jones, of the committee on conference with the railway officials, had to say yesterday.

An unusual silence too was maintained by the members of the committee.

No kind of a statement could be obtained, even from the members of the press committee.

"Of course," said Chairman Riley, of the press committee, "you have read the presentation of the Southern railway. That presentation suits us if it suits them. It tells the facts somewhat so far as it goes. But, to be frank, it doesn't go far enough. After carefully considering the situation the steering committee has decided that we have nothing whatever to say to the public. None of our men are going about the shops. They are not needed there, and until they are needed they won't go."

"So far," said a member of the walkout machinists, "there has not been a request even upon the treasurer for money. This week the men who need the money are entitled to it. Every married man can draw his $7 a week while the single men are read for $5 a week.

"But the class of men at the Southern shops has been of a good type, I might say above the average. They have not tossed their earnings away. Those men, as a rule, have had the rainy day before them. Therefore they won't have to draw upon that reserve fund."

"Fight? Yes, we are now apprehensive. Still we have all kinds of hopes," said one of the best-posted men in the organization. "Financially, we are not able to cope with the Southern. But we know Mr. Spencer to be a reasonable man, and with reason having full sway we feel sure an adjustment can be obtained."

"No," said Chairman Riley, of the press committee, "we have no further or more definite or elaborate reply to make. The Atlanta publications, especially The Constitution, has given us a fair deal. They have been equally fair with the railroad. If they will maintain the same lines we will be throughly satisfied."

GO TO WORK, WHITES DEMAND

Proclamation Posted Giving Warning to Idle Blacks in Jonesville, S. C.

Augusta, Ga., October 22.—A special to The Chronicle from Jonesville, Union county, S. C., says:

"A proclamation was posted tonight by white citizens warning every idle, indolent negro in the community to go to work at once or leave the community, else drastic measures will be taken.

"The proclamation is the outgrowth of threats made against a prominent farmer by several negroes, one of whom was captured last night and severely whipped. He broke away from his captors and created a panic at a negro church, by dashing into the building while services were in progress."

In this article the author, whose name for obvious reasons we are not at liberty to disclose, drops for once the mask which she in common with other "Bachelor Maids," is accustomed to turn to the world.

Though no longer young, she frankly says she longs for the companionship of a husband and the care of children. The circumstances which have kept from her the happiness which these blessings bring are stated with the same directness which characterizes the whole article. It is the life-story of a "successful" woman, a drama of real life in which the last act is a tragedy.

SHORT STORIES OF LOCAL FIELD

WILL WEST, A NEGRO, WAS bound over yesterday afternoon by Judge Broyles under $100 band for carrying a concealed weapon.

N. J. BENNETT, A YOUNG WHITE man from Nelson, Ga., was arrested on Saturday night by Call Officers Brannon and Norris. It was brought out in court yesterday afternoon that while the two bicycle men had a prisoner, this young stone cutter walked across the street with an open knife in his hand and got behind Officer Brannon. Bennett claimed that he thought that the prisoner was a friend of his, and that the policemen were soldiers trying to fight him. Judge Broyles fined him $5 and costs.

N. R. RUTLEDGE, A WHITE MAN, was given a sentence of two weeks in the stockade yesterday by the recorder. He was arrested by Officer Garner, at the residence, 13 Berean avenue. It was claimed that Rutledge beat his 13-year-old daughter unmercifully, and kicked and cuffed his son. Rutledge is a carpenter by trade.

M. WILSON, A NEGRO WHO RUNS a restaurant, was arrested Saturday for keeping on hand in his place whiskey to sell. The convicting evidence was shown in the court room, and Judge Broyles assessed a fine of $50 and costs, which the negro paid.

CREDITORS OF ATHENS PRATTES, a fruit dealer on Broad street, yesterday appeared in the United States court, asking that Pratte's business be placed in the hands of a receiver. The creditors petitioning were Alexander & Co, and Petropol and Cameron and others. There was no schedule of assets and liabilities affixed to the papers. Judge Newman will name a receiver today.

JOHN HIGHTOWER, WHO HAS passed nearly all the years of his life in Atlanta now has apartments at the Robertson sanitarium, 172 Capital avenue. Mr. Hightower has been somewhat indisposed for months gone by. Some ten days ago he decided to take a rest. There has been a gradual but a decided improvement in his condition.

J. C. MOORELAND, KNOWN AMONG his friends as Cabe Mooreland, moved along the streets yesterday—a crutch upon both sides. It was Mooreland's first day out since his train bumped into a "stiff" box car near Jesup five weeks ago. Mooreland's right leg was broken just above the ankle and while the wound was not serious it was for days painful.

ENGINEER CHARLES BARRETT, who was injured in a wreck some two weeks ago near Dalton, was able to sit up for a short time in his bed yesterday. Mr. Barrett is receiving every possible attention in the form of flowers and messages that can be sent to his home. Mr. Barrett's physicians are hopeful that he will be in physical condition to receive his friends within the next week or ten days.

MRS. ESTHER JACOBS, WHO HAS been in the St. Joseph's infirmary for two weeks past, is now improving. When removed from her home to the St. Joseph's Infirmary, Mrs. Jacobs' condition was so serious that visits from not only friends but by members of her family were denied. Dr. Jacobs, the oldest son, receives hourly advices from the sisters attending his good mother and last night the information coming to him over the wire was of the most encouraging nature.

W. H. THILES, TRAVELING SALESMAN for the Atlanta Supply company, is dangerously ill at his home, 442 Pulliam street.

BERTILLON EXPERT NYE, OF THE United States prison, and a United States deputy marshal yesterday took three of the prisoners at the big federal penitentiary to the insane asylum at Washington. All three of the cases were of a mild type. All of the time served at the government insane asylum will be counted the same as if the time was served at the federal prison, so far as the sentences are concerned.

CAPTAIN J. J. DUNWOODY, COMmissary of the Fifth regiment, infantry, national guard of Georgia, has been ordered by Colonel Clifford L. Anderson, commander, to tentatively assume the duties of acting quartermaster of the regiment.

STRUCK BY TRAIN, YOUNG GIRL DIES

Miss Martha Dailey Victim of Railroad Accident.

She Stepped on the Central Track in Order to Get Out of the Way of Another Central Train Going to Savannah.

As the result of injuries received in an accident yesterday morning at 8:30 o'clock, when she was struck by an incoming suburban passenger train of the Central of Georgia from Hapeville at the Oakland avenue crossing, Miss Martha Dailey, the 16-year-old daughter of Mrs. M. M. Dailey, of Oakland City, died at the Grady hospital last night at 10:30 o'clock, where she was taken for treatment. The funeral services will be conducted some time Wednesday, and the body will be sent to Fairburn, Ga., for interment.

While going to the Oakland City public school, formerly the Anna Dill institute, yesterday morning, Miss Dailey had to cross the Central of Georgia railroad tracks at Oakland avenue. Just as she reached the crossing the Central train to Savannah was going by. She stepped on the other track on which the incoming Hapeville train was approaching. The engineer blew his whistle, but the young lady thought it was the fast train warning some one down the track. Almost before she knew it the engine of the incoming train had struck her, throwing her into the air about 15 feet. An eyewitness stated that Miss Dailey on coming down hit the cowcatcher, and was thrown lifeless on the ground on the left side of the track. Engineer T. B. Ragsdale, of the train, stated that he was going only at a rate of 15 miles per hour, but on seeing the young lady pulled the reverse lever, and used every effort possible to keep from having an accident.

When the train stopped Dr. Nesbitt, of Hapeville; Dr. John White, Dr. J. H. Whitaker, of Oakland City; and Dr. C. T. Trimble, of East Point, got off and attended the injured young lady. She was taken to the home of her mother, on Oakland avenue, where she remained until 10 o'clock in an almost unconscious condition.

She was then taken in a private ambulance to the Grady hospital. Dr. C. W. Strickler attended the young lady. On account of her condition it was impossible to make an examination. Morphine was administered to relieve Miss Dailey of the intense pain. It is thought her hip is fractured, and probably there are serious wounds in the head.

Besides her mother, the young lady has six brothers and three sisters, all of whom live in Oakland City.

Up to late last night she was under the influence of morphine in the Grady hospital, in a critical condition. Dr. Strickler stated last night: "I think her hip is hurt, but have been unable to make an examination of her on account of the pain. She has to be kept constantly under the influence of morphine."

Piles

Suffered for 23 Years—Tried Everything Without Avail—"Pyramids" Doing the Work.

A Trial Package Mailed Free to All.

The rectum, like the mouth, is lined with that soft, satiny material known as mucous membrane. Piles is a disease of that membrane and the blood vessels that lie under it.

Fissure and Fistula affect the same membrane and belong to the same family. Pyramid Pile Cure slipped into the bowel, melt and spread themselves over the diseased and painful surface and act just as a salve would if the trouble was on the outside of the body and could be easily seen and gotten at.

The immediate relief they give even in the most agonizing cases will startle you, as it has already startled many thousands of "doubting Thomases" before you, who have tried everything and sent for the sample package, firmly convinced that they would again be disappointed.

But they weren't. Pyramid Pile Cure don't disappoint. They cure. They are for sale at all druggists at 50 cents a box and are worth an even hundred to the person who needs them.

"This is to certify that I have used three 50c boxes of Pyramid Pile Cure and it has benefited me more than any other pile remedy I have ever used. I used the sample which you sent me, together with the three 50c boxes, and I am so much better, but not entirely cured as my case is one of twenty-three years' standing. I did not expect to be cured all at once. I had almost lost all hope of ever getting any remedy that would help me until I tried Pyramid Pile Cure. I believe they will entirely cure me if I continue their use which I intend doing so long as I can get the money to pay for them. I do not think any one ever suffered very much more than I have at times. Then I would be so nervous I could not get any ease in any position I could place myself.

I cannot express my gratitude for the good your medicine has done me. I will continue to tell my friends of their merit. Yours, Emma Bodenhamer, Bedford, Ind."

Or if you want to prove this matter at our expense, before purchasing, send your name and address to the Pyramid Drug Co., 56 Pyramid Building, Marshall, Michigan, and receive a trial package free by return mail.

Executive Secretary Blackburn Received Telegram Yesterday Telling of Their Arrival in Darien, Ga.

GOVERNOR AND MRS. TERRELL, who embarked at Savannah Friday morning on the steam yacht "Jessie," as the guests of Major and Mrs. W. A. Wilkins for a cruise along the coast of Georgia and Florida and about whose safety grave fears were entertained when it was ascertained that the Cuban storm had reached the coast of Florida and Georgia Saturday, are safe, and this information relieved the anxiety of many who called up the executive offices at the capitol all day yesterday.

It was not until yesterday afternoon that Executive Secretary B. M. Blackburn received a telegram from Editor Pleasant Stovall, of The Savannah Press, stating that the "Jessie" had scudded before the storm and escaped it and that the yachting party landed safe and sound in Darien, Ga., at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. Inasmuch as Governor Terrell was expected to communicate by telephone with the executive office from Darien on yesterday morning, failure to hear anything from him aroused the gravest anxiety as to the safety of the governor and his party.

During yesterday the various state officials called at intervals to ascertain if any news had been heard of the governor and his party, and the telephone in the executive office was kept continuously busy by inquiries in every section of the city. Great satisfaction was expressed when it was learned authoritatively that the yachting party was safe and had escaped the storm.

Governor and Mrs. Terrell will return to Atlanta Thursday.

19-YEAR-OLD BOY PREPARES TO VOTE FOURTEEN TIMES

NEW YORK, October 22.—A remarkable attempt at election fraud was developed yesterday when James Haggerty, a 19-year-old boy, was arraigned charged with having registered illegally fourteen times. He was held in $5,000 bail. Haggerty in each instance gave the surname Haggerty, but used a variation of first names. It is alleged that he confessed. He mentioned no party accomplice, it is said, and gave the impression that he acted on his own responsibility, looking for a market.

Armed Rebels Are Making Trouble in Cuba, and the Seventeenth Infantry Has Been Ordered to Suppress Them.

Under Secretary Mora and General Montalva, warden of the penitentiary, tendered their resignations this afternoon, giving as their reasons that they desired not to hinder Governor Magoon in reorganizing the government. These resignations have not been accepted.

Yellow fever has been stamped out in Cruces, which has hitherto been regarded as the most dangerous center. Of the four patients there, two died and two recovered. The fever situation here is unchanged.

Then Fired Fatal Bullet Into His Own Brain.

He had separated from his wife two months ago and had filed a suit for divorce. Today he returned after a protracted absence, called his young son to the gate, kissed him and sent him to call his mother. When Mrs. Van Valkenburgh appeared in the doorway the husband fired two shots, each of which produced fatal wounds. He then shot himself.

WIND AND SNOW RAVAGED WEST

Railway Service in Utah Has Been Demoralized.

Colorado Reports the Heaviest Fall of Snow Since 1892—Snow Three to Four Feet Deep in Places—It Is Snowing in Kansas.

Denver, Colo., October 22.—Snow, wind and cold have extended over nearly the entire country between the Rocky mountains and the Missouri river today, causing heavy losses of live stock and late fruit. Telegraph wires have been prostrated and railroad schadules disarranged. The storm is almost unprecedented for severity at this season of the year, and takes rank, according to the weather bureau, with the snowfall on April 22 and 23, 1885. Up to 6 o'clock this afternoon about 20 inches of snow had fallen in Denver, much of which had melted, and indications were that snow would continue to fall tonight.

At some places on the eastern slope of the mountains the snowfall measures 3 to 4 feet. While the temperature on the plains has fluctuated from 20 to 30 above zero, it has been much colder at higher altitudes. At Corona, the highest point on the new Moffatt Denver-Salt Lake railroad, 2 degrees below zero early today was reported.

At Emery Gap, on the Colorado Southern railroad, snow drifted 9 feet deep, and traffic was practically tied up today.

Railroad Tracks Blocked.

Salt Lake City, Utah, October 22.—Railroad service between Salt Lake City and Ogden is utterly disorganized. The terrific wind Saturday night and Sunday carried down all telegraph wires, making the dispatching of trains in regular order impossible.

The Denver and Rio Grande system is moving few trains. The Oregon short line is blocked by a wreck near Wood's Cross, where thirty freight cars were blown from the tracks. Two passenger coaches on the Salt Lake and Ogden railroad were blown from the track near Centerville, and the conductor and two passengers were bruised, and the line is blocked by many trees blown across the track. In Salt Lake City 2,000 trees were uprooted and several frail buildings in course of construction were wrecked.

Blizzard Still Rages in Wyoming.

Cheyenne, Wyo., October 22.—The storm which began in northern Wyoming Friday and spread over the state Saturday and Sunday, continued without abatement in this section today. About a foot of snow had fallen and all trains have been delayed. Stock on the range is in good condition, and there will be little loss unless extremely low temperatures follow.

Snow in Western Kansas.

Ellis, Kans., October 22.—Colorado's snow storm is passing east and prevailed today in western Kansas. Passengers reaching here on belated eastbound trains report a heavy snow storm in progress between Ellis and Denver.

Fifteen Degrees Above Zero.

Colorado Springs, Colo., October 22.—The severe blizzard that has been in progress for the past forty-eight hours broke this morning. The temperature this morning was 15 above zero.

Blanket of Snow in Minnesota.

Duluth, Minn., October 22.—A blanket of snow, 6 inches or more, fell last night in northeastern Minnesota, covering the Vermillion and Mesaba ranges and extending as far west as Fosston.

Restrains Mississippi Railroad Commission From Enforcing Rate.

Jackson, Miss., October 22.—Judge Niles, in the federal court today granted a temporary injunction restraining the Mississippi railroad commission from enforcing an order promulgating a rate of four and a half cents per hundred on grain and grain products between Vicksburg and Laurel. The restraining order was applied for by the Alabama and Vicksburg railroad, the chief contention being that the rate was violative of the interstate commerce law relative to continuous mileage rates. November 9 was set for the hearing.

CONSUMPTIVE ACTORS' HOME

Plan Has Been Announced to Maintain Such a Home in Colorado.

Chicago, October 22.—A home in Colorado for actors and actresses suffering from pulmonary troubles is to be founded and maintained, according to a plan announced tonight. The idea originated with George M. Cohan, an actor, who says he will subscribe $5,000 cash to start the fund and in addition to this he will give a special matinee performance each week as long as he appears before the public, the gross receipts of which will be turned over to the fund. Mr. Cohan will ask all leading actors and managers throughout the country to cooperate.

Peter McCort, of Denver, has been appointed by Mr. Cohan to select a site for the home.

LITTLE BOY SENDS PRESENT.

Joseph Hirsch, Jr., Subscribes $5 as Birthday Gift to Hiram Render Fuller.

On yesterday afternoon little Joseph Hirsch, Jr., telephoned to Dr. Brewster, the superintendent of the Grady hospital, that he would give $5 to little Render Fuller for his birthday today. This is a starter. Little Joseph will have a birthday today, which will be his fifth, and he wants to make Render have a good time.

Up to date the subscription toward the birthday gift for the little cripple boy, who has been in the hospital for nine years, and celebrates his 12th birthday today, amounts to $9.50. Yesterday Render received $3.50 cash at the hospital, and the subscription at the police station up to date is $2.00; and the gift of Joseph Hirsch, Jr., $5.00.

It is hoped that the little invalid will receive a great many more subscriptions during the day to swell up his bank account.

JOHN BENNETT CONVALESCING

Operated on for Appendicitis in New York—He Is Improving Slowly.

Hon. John W. Bennett, of Valdosta, Ga., solicitor of the Waycross, Ga., circuit, who was operated upon in New York ten days ago for appendicitis, is convalescing, but it is stated that his recovery will be slow.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennett arrived in New York on September 29, after a month's trip through Canada, ending in Quebec. On October 2, Mr. Bennett was taken desperately ill, and symptoms of appendicitis developed. The attending physician after a few days called in Dr. Abbe, a noted surgeon of New York city, and, after a consultation, an operation was decided upon. The operation was performed by Dr. Abbe on the 13th of this month at the private sanitarium of Miss Lewis, 39 West Forty-third street, New York.

Mr. Bennett's appendix was found to be in a badly abscessed condition, and the surgeon declared the trouble had been coming on his patient for at least a year. He is doing as well as could be expected, and when he is able to be out again, his physician believes he will be in better health than for several years past.

Mr. Bennett is one of the most prominent lawyers in Georgia, and the telegraphic inquiries from this state, as to his condition, have been most numerous.

BANK OFFICIALS INDICTED.

Alleged That They Received Deposits After Insolvency.

Shreveport, La., October 22.—In the district court today indictments were returned aginst Albert H. Leonard, F. J. Trezevant, C. S. Bauman and R. L. Mayfield, former officials of the defunct Merchants' and Farmers' Bank and Trust company, of this city, charging them with having received deposits and created debts knowing the bank to be insolvent and in a failing condition. The bank, which had a capital of $100,000, suspended operation last April. It had the largest savings deposits of any banking institution in the city. The depositors, after organizing and working for several months, succeeded in having indictments returned against the officials who are among the most prominent citizens of Shreveport.

THE WINNING STROKE

If more than ordinary skill in playing brings the honors of the game to the winning player, so exceptional merit in a remedy ensures the commendation of the well informed, and as a reasonable amount of outdoor life and recreation is conducive to the health and strength, so does a perfect laxative tend to one's improvement in cases of constipation, biliousness, headaches, etc. It is all important, however, in selecting a laxative, to choose one of known quality and excellence, like the ever pleasant Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., a laxative which sweetens and cleanses the system effectually, when a laxative is needed, without any unpleasant after effects, as it acts naturally and gently on the internal organs, simply assisting nature when nature needs assistance, without griping, irritating or debilitating the internal organs in any way, as it contains nothing of an objectionable or injurious nature. As the plants which are combined with the figs in the manufacture of Syrup of Figs are known to physicians to act most beneficially upon the system, the remedy has met with their general approval as a family laxative, a fact well worth considering in making purchases.

It is because of the fact that SYRUP OF FIGS is a remedy of known quality and excellence, and approved by physicians that has led to its use by so many millions of well informed people, who would not use any remedy of uncertain quality or inferior reputation. Every family should have a bottle of the genuine on hand at all times, to use when a laxative remedy is required. Please to remember that the genuine Syrup of Figs is for sale in bottles of one size only, by all reputable druggists, and that full name of the company—California Fig Syrup Co., is plainly printed on the front of every package. Regular price, 50c per bottle.

FORTUNE GONE, HE KILLED SELF

A London Banker Announces Failure, Then Suicides.

Shortly After Posting Notice That His Bank Was Unable to Meet Obligations, MacFadyen Threw Himself Before Train.

London, October 22.—P. MacFadyen, head of MacFayden & Co., bankers, whose suspension was announced Saturday, committed suicide within an hour after posting the notice of the failure on the door of the bank, by throwing himself before a train in a tunnel about half a mile away from his place of business.

Mr. MacFadyen appears to have gone direct from his bank to a station of the City and South London railway, to have entered the tunnel unobserved and deliberately jain down in front of an approaching train. The engineer reported having run over an obstruction in the tunnel, and a search revealed a shockingly mutilated body, which today was identified as that of Mr. MacFadyen.

It is rumored that the failure of P. MacFadyen & Co., the London house of Arbuthnot & Co., bankers, of Madras, was connected with the cotton market, but, as Mr. MacFadyen was the sole partner in Europe, it is difficult to obtain information on the subject.

REVISION DELAYS ELECTION,

Consequently St. Petersburg Cannot Take Advantage of Present Peace.

St. Petersburg, October 22.—The revision of the election lists according to the senate's interpretation of the election law consumed so much time that the administration has found it impossible to take advantage of the present tranquility and hold the elections to parliament before the Christmas holidays as it intended.

According to the law, six weeks must elapse between the completion of lists and election, which could not be before January 14, the Russian new year day. A date later in January, however, would give little time for elected members to reach St. Petersburg from all parts of the empire by March 3 for the opening of parliament. Coming from Siberia, a member of the first parliament met his colleagues frist at Irbog, after parliament had been dissolved.

CENTRAL READY TO MOVE COTTON

Forty New Locomotives and 2,000 Freight-Cars En Route.

New Freight Cars Are Being Received at the Rate of Ten Per Day—Ten Fine Passenger Engines.

Savannah, Ga., October 22.—(Special.)—The Central railway will soon be in a position to handle, with far greater satisfaction to itself and its shippers, the business that has greatly increased since the movement of the cotton crop was begun. At the rate of ten a day, two thousand new freight cars are being received by the railroad, and the first of an order for forty new locomotives, are now on their way from manufacturers. Before November 30 all of the new locomotives will be in operation on the line. Ten of them are passenger engines of the finest type for service between Macon and Atlanta.

CAUGHT PAWNING A WATCH.

Frank Carr, a White Man, Bound Over in Police Court Charged With Robbery.

Plains Clothes Officers Coogler, Starnes, Clark and Hollis on Saturday night caught Frank Carr, a white man, in the act of pawning a gold watch, chain and charm at H. Schaul's place. He was arrested, and later G. A. McNabb, of 206 Means street, identified the man as holding him up on the same night at the corner of Kennedy and Strong streets, and taking the watch, chain and charm and $8.02 in money.

Yesterday afternoon Carr was tried in the police court by Judge Broyles. Mr. McNabb stated that Carr was in company with another man when he robbed him. Carr exclaimed, after going through all of his pockets: "If I don't find any more money I'll shoot you. You had better tell me if you have got any more."

Judge Broyles asked Carr what was his occupation and how long he had been in the city. He claimed that he was a painter, and had been in Atlanta about five days. The recorder bound him over under $5,000 bond for robbery and assault and attempt at murder.

HOLD HEARING AT KNOXVILLE

Interstate Commerce Commission to Probe Southern's Mining Interests.

Knoxville, Tenn., October 22.—Judge Judson S. Clements, of Georgia, and James S. Harlan, of Illinois, members of the interstate commerce commission, formally convened a hearing for the commission in this city this morning. It is to ascertain the relationship of the Southern railway to the coal mining industry in the Tennessee-Kentucky field. There are also present Martin S. Decker, assistant secretary of the commission; James S. Murphy, representative of the commission, who made preliminary inquiries in this region in advance of today's meeting; C. C. McChord, state railroad commissioner of Kentucky, and W. O Davis, of Versailles, Ky. The two last named are attorneys for the commission.

The Southern railway is represented by H. B. Spencer, general manager; W. W. Finlay, second vice president; C. H. Ackert, third vice president, and R. A. Dugan, assistant general manager, whom, it is stated, were subpoenaed as witnesses. Mr. Decker said this morning that the session is in pursuance of the terms of the law adopted by the last congress directing the commission to make investigations as to the possible railroad discriminations and monopolies in coal and oil industries.

It is similar to inquiries recently made as to the Pennsylvania, Baltimore and Ohio and Chesapeake and Ohio roads and their relations to the coal industry. Mr. Decker stated the investigation is in pursuance of this resolution. It is stated a number of complaints have been made as to the Southern railway's method of car supply for the coal mines, it being stated that the supply of coal cars is inadequate. This may be taken up.

The commission convened at 10 o'clock this morning in the federal court room.

Austrian Diplomats Confer.

Vienna, October 22.—Herr Von Szogleny-March, Astro-Hungarian ambassador, and Baron Aehrenthal, the ambassador at St. Petersburg, two of Austria's oldest diplomats, have arrived here to have audiences of Emperor Francis Joseph in connection with the resignation of foreign Minister Golouchowski. There appears to be little hope of an early settlement of his successor. The Hungarians are rejoicing at what they claim to be a great success of Magyar influence in bringing about Golouchowski's fall.

S.S.S. CURES CANCEROUS ULCERS

Whenever a sore or ulcer is slow in healing, and shows signs of eating into the surrounding flesh, it is safe to say that the blood is infected with cancerous germs. Some old taint or poison that has lain dormant awaiting a favorable opportunity to assert itself has found an outlet on the face, arms, legs or other part of the body, and the place has become inflamed and festered, and a chronic ulcer is the result. When middle age is reached or passed, and the vital powers are naturally weaker, a hurt of any kind heals slowly, and often an insignificant scratch or bruise on warty growths, moles, pimples, etc., will begin to inflame and are soon large, eating ulcers. The cancerous germs are rooted in the blood, and while salves, plasters, lotions, etc., keep the surface clean, they are useless in affecting a cure. S.S.S. cures cancerous ulcers by going down into the blood and removing the germs and poisons which produce the trouble. It cleanses the circulation of all unhealthy matter, and when the cause is removed the sore heals permanently. S. S. S. enriches and strengthens the entire blood-supply, and being purely vegetable, it is a pleasant, safe remedy for young or old, and ulcers of every kind yield promptly to its curative properties. NOW FOR THE AUDITORIUM-ARMORY!

A splendid forward step was taken yesterday toward the erection of Atlanta's Auditorium-Armory.

At the meeting of the citizens' committee of twenty-five, appointed several days ago for the purpose of giving direction to the movement, a plan of action was formally agreed upon and in less than three minutes more than $50,000 was subscribed to the fund of $250,000 to be raised for the purpose of building for Atlanta its much needed auditorium and armory.

The special committee of five to which had been referred the matter of formulating a plan for the general committee, and whose report was unanimously adopted, was authorized to proceed at once to the completion of the subscription list.

It met yesterday afternoon and by night the morning subscription of $50,000 was increased $29,000, so that the full day's subscriptions, representing but a few hours' work, amounted to $79,000.

A splendid day's work for Atlanta, and every dollar of the required amount should, and in all probability will, be subscribed before another sun goes down.

"Two thousand people turned away for lack of room; four thousand packed within, one-third of them standing," begins the local report of the Sam Jones memorial service in yesterday's Constitution.

Today is the opening day of another great national convention in Atlanta—that of the Carriage Builders' National Association. It is expected that fully 5,000 delegates, their wives and friends, will be present to attend the sessions of this convention.

Two thousand people were turned away from the Sam Jones memorial service, and more than a thousand others compelled to stand, because Atlanta has no auditorium or convention hall capable of accommodating those who wish to attend any large gathering in this city. Those in attendance upon the annual convention of the Carriage Builders' National Association will probably meet the same difficulty of lack of room.

Could anything argue more forcibly for the building of an auditorium in Atlanta adapted for the accommodation of the many large gatherings that make this city their place of meeting?

Atlanta has become a great convention city. Every year a number of large national conventions are held here—conventions that draw hundreds of delegates and visitors from every state and territory in the union. A more ideal convention city could not be chosen from the standpoint of accessibility, interesting environment, excellent and ample hotel accommodations, local hospitality, and everything that is desirable in a convention city. The one thing lacking is a suitable building for such large gatherings.

Surely Atlanta, with her proverbial public spirit, will not longer stand in her own light in this important matter. It is the laudable and natural ambition of every large city to attract large conventions. They advertise a city's resources and advantages in a most effective way, and the item of money spent in the city by the visitors is worthy of local consideration.

Atlanta is clearly a favorite choice as a convention city for the great national trade, business, religious and fraternal associations of the nation. If they decide to come south they are more than apt to select Atlanta as the place of meeting. It is the part of wisdom for Atlanta to be ready for them.

One thing is certain, Atlanta will lose prestige as a convention city if she does not promptly set about building a convention auditorium.

There is no use wasting words in argument. The need is so obvious that every Atlantan admits it.

The auditorium we must have, and yesterday's work shows that it is in sight.

Dr. Felton and the Weightman Millions.

The suit over the Weightman millions in Philadelphia, to decide the disposition of the vast estate left by the millionaire manufacturing chemist of that city, recalls some interesting history in connection with this firm and the part played by a distinguished Georgia congressman in opposing the unfair tariff schedules that permitted the accumulation of this vast sum at the expense of the people of the country.

When William H. Felton was a member of congress, from 1874 to 1880, he was, during his third term, appointed a member of the ways and means committee of the house by Speaker S. J. Randall.

In this office and as chairman of the subcommittee on tariff investigation, he was responsible in a large measure for the reduction of tariff charges on many necessities of life. He also led the fight on the free entry for quinine, which up to that time had been manufactured almost exclusively by Weightman & Powers, of Philadelphia. The proposal to put quinine on the free list was vigorously contested by this firm and they employed every means at their command to defeat the amendment. Dr. Felton's brilliant leadership of the relief measure, however, won a favorable report, which secured its passage in the house.

Among the members of this prominent and important committee were such men as Garfield, Kelly, Fernando Wood, Carlisle and Tucker of Virginia, they being probably the most notable figures in congress. When Garfield was elected to the senate, from which he advanced to the white house, William McKinley, of Ohio, succeeded him on the committee.

Dr. Felton has always been a firm believer in the doctrine of a tariff for revenue only, to be raised from the luxuries of commerce, affording incidental protection to American industries.

The man whose monopoly of the quinine trade was thus destroyed, nevertheless died a couple of years ago leaving an estate worth $60,000,000. Dr. Felton, the man who secured for the American people the vast benefit of a substantial reduction in the price of this medical necessity, has reaped no material reward from his distinguished public service.

Despite this showing, will any one undertake to say that of the two lives his has been the greatest success? Will any one attempt to draw the contrast between these two men, who stand out from the crowd, and say the millionaire is worthier than the patriot and the humanitarian?

Weightman lived and died, and when his lawyers came to wind up his affairs, they found he left an estate worth $60,000,000 for his heirs to squabble over.

Dr. Felton still lives, in retirement, at his home in Cartersville, Ga., loved and honored by all who know him.

He saved millions in money and countless lives by breaking up the quinine trust in this country.

He saved millions to the state in carrying through the act providing for the lease instead of the sale of the state road, that in the twenty-nine years of its lease was pledged to pay into the state treasury $12,000,000, and then to be returned to its original owners plus the betterments and the natural enhancement in value.

On the floor of the legislature his appeals were largely successful in securing the erection of the present magnificent state capitol that cost less that the amount appropriated for its construction.

He was one of the earliest and strongest workers in the state in behalf of reformatories for juvenile convicts. He was a constant champion of the movement to reform the convict system of the state. He was the friend and defender of the Georgia railroad commission, when its enemies threatened its annihilation.

During Dr. Felton's forty years' service in the ministry he never made one dollar, so high was his regard for the gospel and for the example set by the Master, who "had no place to lay his head." There was no time between 1850 and 1900 that he could not have commanded the highest pulpit salary paid in Georgia, or directed the affairs of the most exclusive and fashionable church in the state, but he chose otherwise and the returns that come from what the world calls practical business sense were not for him.

Who shall say that his reward and his choice were not the stronger, the purer, the more wholesome, than that of the man whose autocratic control he had opposed and whose last account sheet in this life showed a balance of $60,000,000?

Dr. Felton will probably not leave an estate so large as to invite heirs to contest, or for remote kinsmen to assail, but he will leave a record of public service that is honorable and imperishable, and he will always be cherished as one of Georgia's noblest and most distinguished sons.

The Lion at Bay.

News that Richard Croker, former chief of Tammany Hall, had instituted suit for libel against a magazine was recently published, and now comes the announcement that the matter has been compromised and the suit withdrawn.

The resentment by Croker of the stabs of a critical journal discloses a new phase of the former leader's character. Many were the times that well directed charges of corruption were leveled at his bloody but unbowed head. And just as frequently did he follow the even tenor of his way, the shafts glancing off without touching a vital spot.

But scientific observers tell us that the continual drip, drip of the water will wear away the hardest stone. And so it must be that the continual jabbing of the pen dipped in acid has touched the vital spot and roused the old lion to painful action.

"Where did you get it?" is said to be the phrase which drove Croker from New York. His friends deny it. Croker said he was growing old. There were also whispers of painful domestic differences. This, coupled with a desire to spend his declining days in his beloved Ireland, dictated his determination to relinquish the leadership of Tammany Hall and retire forever from public life.

But he never explained the means by which he acquired his enormous private fortune.

Through more than one heated campaign "Where did you get it?" was hurled not only at Croker, but at Tammany Hall. The newspapers of New York, with one or two exceptions, took up the cry, and "Where did you get it?" became a household phrase.

They will tell you in New York that Croker was the best friend a man ever had. They will not speak of his enmity, for the man of iron will was possessed of too much political discretion to enjoy the luxury of displaying enmity. Croker never complained. Even those loyal followers of Charles Murphy, the present leader of Tammany Hall, will shake their heads at some of Mr. Murphy's outbursts and tell you that things are not like they used to be.

Old-time members of Tammany Hall take a pride in reciting how Croker ignored condemnatory editorials in the New York papers. He was apparently unaware that he did not possess the friendship of the universe. He was a man of few words, who smiled but seldom; but his words were just as effective, his smile just as spontaneous on the day he sailed as at any time of his reign.

It is in the nature of things that a curious public should wish to follow the chief to his retreat. Accordingly newspapers pursued Croker and the seclusion which he so earnestly sought was denied. His daily habits were recited in detail. When this ceased to be of interest his former political methods were used as foundations for sensational news stories.

The latest and one of the most severe of these stories was printed in the magazine which Croker sued. Charges that Tammany Hall methods were being employed in English politics were made. To prove what a crime this was, the writer went on to show how Croker had used his power as leader to mulct the people until his coffers were filled to overflowing with ill-gotten gains, whereupon he emulated the example of the Arab.

The denial Croker made is the first on record that we have seen. The public would like to know the terms of the settlement of the case.

The Broad White Road.

Beneath the moon, between the beck'ning trees,
The white road winds and calls to me, "Oh, come
Out of thy weary life of drear unease,
And let me fill thee with the thoughts of home.

"A home, a friend, hast never known? A love
Whom thou could'st call thine own and tell her all
The loneliness that comes to them who rove
And dare in solitude to stand or fall?

"I will be all to thee; perfumes shall rise,
Like incense, from my pale, my patient flowers;
The while a thousand eyes—Night's dewy eyes—
Shall fill with love and pity all the hours;

"Lap thee in purple of a pure delight,
Far from the sad-faced earth and earthly sights;
Lull thee to dreams of those dark eyes whose light
Lightens thy silent, solitary nights.

"My watchful pines shall be thy steadfast friends.
Such faithfulness thou'lt never, never know,
Where keen-eyed morning searches out the ends
Of loves and friendships fled like melted snow.

"My billowy clouds, like benedictions falling,
Shall fall on thee, enfold thy fevered heart;
No more thou'lt hear the weary voices calling;
No more wilt heed the sting, the shame, the smart,

"Of wasted years; of things that might have been;
Of loves that flitted by thee in the dusk,
With flashing eyes, and left behind them keen,
Sepulchral scents of cinnamon and musk.

"Come to me, then. Wherever thou wilt go,
I'll lead thee at the passing of the breath."
Now silence falls, and now I see the glow
Of campfires down the broad white road of Death.

NO ACTION ON FRANCHISE.

Petition of the Atlanta and Carolina Electric Railway Held Up by the Aldermanic Board.

The petition of the Atlanta and Carolina Electric railway for a franchise on certain streets in the city was taken up by the aldermanic board yesterday afternoon and action postponed as citizens appeared and objected to tracks being laid on Rawson and Grant streets.

The postponement was made by a motion to non-concur with the recommendation to council that the petition be referred back to the committee on electric and other railways.

Citizens claim that Rawson street, east of Capitol avenue, is too narrow for a car line, and residents living on Grant street object to the proposed line on general principles.

Some kind consideration to a friendly host you owe
Whose linen dusters are but sieves for siftin' of the snow!

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Real, and Not Bogus, Agricultural Education.

Editor Constitution: I am glad to see the editorial in your issue of today approving the recent action of the legislature in its appropriations for a central agricultural college and local secondary schools for teaching agriculture. Nothing like it has been attempted in any other state, and Georgia is in the van in this important movement.

The recent address by President Hill, the greatest railroad manager which America has developed, in which he enforces the necessity for improved methods of agriculture, has not only stamped him as a far-seeing statesman, but has attracted the attention of every thinking man. The Georgia legislature, however, had anticipated him. All our prosperity must come from the soil, and in the cultural pursuits, and yet unfortunately, south especially five-sixths of our people must depend for their living upon agrias shown by the late Chancellor Hill, the traditional education which we are spending millions of dollars every year to give our youth, educates them away from the farm. All over Georgia, especially in the back counties, numbers of farms are absolutely abandoned. In many, many cases the boys have gone off to the towns and cities and the old men are left in their old age to get between the plow handles again to keep up the farm. It is also true that hardly a farm in the state is producing as much as it could be made to produce under improved and more intelligent methods. In spite of the money spent on the department of agriculture and on the experiment stations their bulletins of information are not in demand, and as a general thing not read and followed. While there are some progressive farmers and there is more or less general improvement, the older men are apt to be set in their ways and the best hope is the instruction of the younger men and the coming farmer boys. Now the danger that confronts us is that while the legislature, under the most solemn promises on the part of the advocates of these measures that the money would be used for teaching agriculture, has made ample provision for practical instruction in agriculture and the industries connected with it—the tendency will be to make these schools merely ...gn schools with an agricultural department attached. This method of teaching agriculture in the past has been useful for getting appropriations, but has been a failure in its practical results. I notice an article in The Constitution some days since outlining the course of instruction for these schools to be submitted to the trustees of the university, and it was stated that it had been approved by myself. This was not correct. While some parts of it did meet my approval I dissented from the general plan as emphatically as I could to be courteous to the distinguished gentlemen in the conference who did approve it. My objection was that it made the academical instruction predominant. Besides, the idea of schools to teach agriculture providing for only three hours of actual work on the farm for three days in the week seemed to me ludicrous. General education is all right, but there are other schools where this may be acquired, and I do not favor taking up the time in these schools for courses in algebra, Latin, French, history, etc. If these schools are to be made simply high schools with an industrial department attached and to serve as feeders for the literary departments of Emory and Mercer and the university; if they are simply for the purpose of turning out every year a few hundred more "graduates, teachers, lawyers, doctors and "shoduy gentlemen," it would be better to put the money back into the common school fund or the pockets of the taxpayers. There is no truer gentleman than the man who makes an honorable living by honest toil, even though it be physical labor, and to educate a generation of boys willing to work and able to do efficient and profitable work on our farms will be the pride of the state and will be much better for them and the country than to educate them to enter the already crowded profession to fill the towns and cities and to be forced to live, many of them, by their wits and by graft. As President Roosevelt has truly said, we have given the wrong twist to our education in the past. But this is an attempt to make a new departure. I realize that there is only one chance in twenty of keeping these schools from being dragged down into the old traditional ruts. But they should be schools to teach agriculture practically and not to teach about agriculture with the "'ologies" thrown in. I appeal to the broad-minded and intelligent men on the board of trustees of the University of Georgia to be true to the trust committed to them and to keep these schools on the right line. If they do, in ten years—in five years—we will see Georgia on a much higher level of prosperity. Very respectfully,

H. H. PERRY.

The Champion Plowman.

(From The Chicago Examiner.)

Wheatland, Ill—Cyrus Stark, of Wheatland, is the champion plowman of the world and holds that title undisputed. For twenty-eight years past, since he was able to guide a horse and handle a plow, he has been winning prizes, and at the annual Wheatland plowing match, held a few days ago, he carried off the gold medal in the post graduate class without opposition.

Stark is in a class all by himself. So invincible is he as a plowman that it has become necessary to have the so-called post graduate class to give the other plowmen a chance to compete against each other, with some show of having a contest. Saturday there were no competitors in this class.

Cyrus Stark is now 40 years of age. All his life he has lived at Wheatland, that prosperous little farming community in Will county just southeast of Aurora. His father removed to Wheatland sixty years ago from Pennsylvania, his forefathers being early settlers of that state.

Mr. Stark is counted as among the substantial farmers of this section. He lives on his own farm of 100 acres, not far removed from the center of the township and near that of his father, William Stark. He is married and has two children, a boy of 15 and a girl of 13 years of age.

His son he has not yet entered in the plowing matches, but, under his father's guidance, the boy is fast learning how to handle the plow and he may decide to compete next year.

It was as a lad of 12 years that Cyrus Stark first began to contest in the Wheatland matches, then a novelty in this section. That was twenty-eight years ago. At his first attempt in the class for boys under fourteen he took second prize. The next year he won the first prize in his class. From that time on he has not been surpassed and has won every contest he entered, except for four years when he laid off.

Society Touting.

(From The Grand Magazine.)

Though the existence of society touts is, in a vague way, a matter of general knowledge, it is a proof of how greatly the practice is spreading to find an advertisement such as the following, which appeared not long ago in a London daily paper: "A lady moving in good society required at once to wear and make fashionable a very beautiful and dainty article of jewelery; liberal remuneration."

ALDERMEN VOTE FOR ASPHALT BID

Board Unanimously Concurred in Action of Council.

At the Next Meeting of Council the Contract Will Be Made With the Asphalt Paving Company of Georgia for $1.24 a Square Yard.

The aldermanic board concurred in the action of the city council relative to the bid of the repaving of Peachtree street at its meeting yesterday afternoon.

The council accepted the bid of the Asphalt Paving Company, of Georgia, which was for an asphalt pavement at a cost of $1.24 a square yard. The bitulithic company made a bid with conditions attached to it. The street committee was divided on the two pavements and five members voted for the asphalt and three for the bitulithic. In council, however, the vote for the asphalt was unanimous.

The city attorney held that before the contract could be made there must be a legal advertisement for assessments against the property holders, and for this reason the bid of the Asphalt Paving Company of Georgia was accepted subject to future action as required by law.

The vote of the aldermanic board was also unanimous for the asphalt.

Action Is Final.

This action is final, so far as the city is concerned. The assessment advertisement has been made and at its next meeting the council will instruct the city attorney to draw up the necessary contract.

The asphalt company will begin work within a week after the contract is made. The officers of the company state that it will take a few days for the preliminary work and then the repaving of the street will commence.

The work will be begun at the corner of Ellis and Peachtree streets, and one side torn up and repaved. Then the other side of the street will be gone over in the same way.

In a few months Peachtree will be repaved and the fine resident thoroughfare will no more present the unsightly appearance that has made it an eyesore to the city for some time.

CHICAGO WOMAN STRANGLED.

Believed That Mrs. Margaret Leslie Was Murdered.

Chicago, October 22.—Several days ago the body of Mrs. Margaret Leslie, an actress, was found in a room in the Palace hotel. Lately several features of the case have cast doubt on the suicide theory and the police have been investigating to see if the woman was murdered. Today the coroner's physician, after an examination, declared that the woman was probably strangled to death.

LOCAL BANKERS RETURN FROM BIG CONVENTION

Atlanta Representatives to American Bankers' Association Meeting Were Highly Honored in St. Louis.

JOHN K. OTTLEY, cashier of the Fourth National bank; Colonel R. J. Lowry, president of the Lowry National bank, and Joseph McCord, cashier of the Third National bank, are in the city after attending the convention of the American Bankers' Association at St. Louis. All had amost agreeable time, and were enthusiastic over the results attained by the delegates.

John K. Ottley was elected a member of the executive council of the association, one of the most important branches of the association. Mr. McCord is a member of the executive committee, while Colonel Lowry, who was at one time president of the association, was one of the most conspicuous members present at the convention. It was at a previous convention held in St. Louis that Colonel Lowry was elected president of the association.

In speaking of the convention, Mr. Ottley said:

"The American Bankers' Association held its twenty-second annual convention in St. Louis during the past week. The association held its convention in the same city in 1896, since which time it has practcally trebled its membership, having now a membership of some 8,300 banks, numbering, as it does, the principal financial institutions throughout the United States and Canada.

"The social side of the convention was very charming. The St. Louis bankers provided a very elaborate programme of entertainment of a varied character for the attending bankers and the lady members of their families accompanying them.

"Ten years ago the question of sound money was agitating the American people and was discussed by the convention and the association declared unequivocally in favor of the gold standard.

"At this convention the question considered of paramount importance was reform in our currency system.

"Previous to the opening of the regular convention, a special conference, consisting of one representative from each of thirty-four states, held two sessions to consider this most important subject. A number of plans were presented. Notable among them were the plans of the committee appointed by the chamber of commerce of New York city; one by Alfred H. Curtiss, of New York city, and the plan submitted by the legislative committee of the association, composed of the following gentlemen, to wit: Arthur Reynolds, Des Moines, Ia.; W. V. Cox, Washington, D. C.; Joseph A. McCord, Atlanta; E. F. Swinney, Kansas City, John L. Hamilton, Hoopeston, Ills.

"No definite action was had by this conference. The subject was made a special order of the convention last Friday at 10 o'clock, and a full discussion of the subject was had by the various members, among whom were John L. Hamilton, president of the association, and Joseph A. McCord, of Atlanta, in explanation and recommendation of the report made by the legislative committee.

"In view of the importance of the subject and the limited time at the hands of the convention, a resolution was finally adopted referring the subject to a committee of fifteen, to be appointed by the executive council, of which the members of the legislative committee are to constitute five members, the ten additional names to be supplied by the council, this committee to take up the subject in connection with Congressman Fowler, who is chairman of the banking and currency committee of congress; the purpose to be the drafting of a bill to be introduced at the next session of congress that may be suitable to the needs of the country at the present time, having in mind the elasticity and at the same time a currency that may be as safe and stable as the currency of the present, which is acknowledged to be as sound as the currency of any country.

Question of Now and Then.

Colonel Lowry delivered a notable talk to the delegates. It was ten years ago that Colonel Lowry was elected president of the association. At that time the country was wavering between free silver and the gold standard. From the viewpoint of the conservatives and the bankers free silver meant ruin; from the viewpoint of the radicals a continuance of the gold standard meant ruin plus more than ruin.

Colonel Lowry, however, had ample opportunity to contrast present conditions with those of the past, and he made the most of his opporunity.

Speaking of rumors of a financial crash, Colonel Lowry was optimistic. Ht said he thought the country had no reason to fear any trouble for the next three years, and that the possibilities after that time were remote.

RAILROAD DEAL NOT COMPLETED

West Point Has Not Replied to Atkinson Line Proposition.

Negotiations between the Atalnta, Birmingham and Atlantic railway and the Atlanta and West Point railroad for the operation from LaGrange to Atlanta of trains of the former road over the line of the latter, which were given exclusive announcement in Sunday's Constitution, have not yet been completed, according to officials of both roads.

President C. A. Wickersham, of the West Point, when seen yesterday, would not deny that such negotiations were in progress, but would say nothing as to the stage reached more definite than that "at the present time there is nothing I can say about this matter which would interest the public."

Which being interpreted means that as yet the two railroads have not been able to come to terms, and that as soon as an agreement is reached formal announcement of the deal will be made.

CAPITOL GOSSIP

State School Commissioner Merritt has accepted an invitation from the Augusta Fair Association to deliver and address there on educational day, Saturday, November 3.

Charles Johnson, a negro who cut his wife to death on October 14, in Fulton county, has been apprehended in Chattanooga, Tenn. A requisition was issued from the state executive office yesterday on the governor of Tennessee, and an officer was sent to bring Johnson to Atlanta for trial.

Governor Terrell has offered a reward of $100 for the capture of Lillard Butts, a negro, who, on October 14, waylaid and shot his wife to death as she was returning from church, in Taylor county.

A similar reward was offered for the apprehension of Silas Holmes, indicted in Schley county, for the murder of Wash Edge. Both parties to the homicide were negroes.

For Senate Doorkeeper.

Hon. Fleming G. Grieve, of Milledgeville, announces his candidacy for the position of doorkeeper of the senate as successor to the late Major J. W. Green, of Habersham county, who for several terms was the doorkeeper of the senate, with Colonel Grieve as his assistant.

The late Major Green was a gallant confederate veteran, as is Colonel Grieve. The two made an irresistable combination. The warmest attachment existed between them and had Major Green lived he would have again been a candidate for the position of doorkeeper, with Colonel Grieve as his assistant.

As yet Colonel Grieve has no opposition. He is a member of one of Georgia's oldest and most highly honored families and his long service in connection with the legislative administration of the state has made him many warm friends in every county in the state.

Widow Barred From Remarrying.

New York, October 22.—The will of Daniel O'Day, a Standard Oil capitalist, who died suddenly in rFance several weeks ago, was filed for probate today. Mr. O'Day's entire estate is left to his widow and twelve children. The value of the estate is not stated. Under the terms of the will, Mrs. O'Day will receive the income of $325,000 during her life, unless she should remarry.

BOARD MAY ASK AID OF COURTS

The Peachtree Bridge Matter Arousing Citizens of Atlanta.

There is every prospect that unless the Southern railway soon undertakes the construction of a concrete arch over its tracks near Brookwood on the Peachtree road, according to the terms of its agreement entered into a year ago with the board of county commissioners, the board will invoke the aid of the courts to compel the railway company to carry out the provisions of that agreement.

The article published in The Sunday Constitution in regard to the dangerous condition of the temporary bridge which the Southern erected over its tracks at that point and the accompanying card from a citizen created much comment, and was productive of another card from a citizen who pertinently asks if the railroad cannot be made to obey the law and fulfill its contract as a private citizen would.

Inquiry yesterday at the office of the superintendent of the Southern railway elicited the information that that office knows nothing about the complaints of the dangerous condition of the bridge, and it was suggested that Colonel J. B. S. Thompson, representing the railway, could probably throw some light on the matter. Colonel Thompson is reported to be out of the city, and could not be located yesterday.

Colonel Anderson, chairman of the public works committee of the board of county commissionefrs, when asked yesterday by a representative of The Constitution if the board had no means of compelling the railway company to comply with its agreement, replied that the board was in no sense neglecting the matter, and that he had personally been very diligent in seeking to require the road to carry out its agreement by commencing the construction of the concrete arch over the tracks.

"The railway company," said Colonel Anderson, "has been treated with the same consideration with which a private individual would have been treated. A reasonable excuse has been offered each time for the delay in commencing the work. About three weeks ago I was assured by Colonel J. B. S. Thompson, with whom my correspondence touching this matter has been conducted, that the plans were being drawn and the actual construction would be commenced shortly.

"I may say," continued Colonel Anderson, "that should there be further delay in this mater the board of commissioners will invoke the aid of the courts to compel the Southern to carry out its agreement.

"The courts have not been resorted to because such a course seemed inexpedient. Had a proceeding been brought to compel the railway company to carry out its contract, two years must have elapsed before the case would be reached and tried on its merits, and an appeal to the supreme court would have delayed the matter another year."

Card From Citizen.

"Editor Constitution: In Sunday's issue of The Constitution developed the fact from County Commissioner Anderson that the Southern Railway Company is alone responsible for the nuisance; that this railway is under contract with the county board to build a concrete bridge and that for eight months Colonel Anderson has urged the Southern railway at least once a month to carry out its agreement and build this badly needed bridge.

"This is good progress, but is gives no hope that the public will ever get rid of this outrageous nuisance in the most public thoroughfare in Georgia.

"What are the people to do? Has the county board no power to enforce the building of this bridge? When is this dangerous eye-sore and nuisance to be removed?

"If a private citizen sat up such a nuisance in Peachtree road he would be punished severely. Can't this railroad be indicted by the grand jury and made to obey the law and promptly fulfill its contracts with the county?

"There must be relief somewhere. Won't The Constitution take up the cause of the people and see that they get relief.

"The county is likely to have a heavy bill of damages for injury to persons and property on account of this public nuisance.

"The conveyances that wait here at the end of the car line to meet different parties; the travel to the Steel Hoop Works, to Armours and out Peachtree road all congest here and it makes a dangerous nuisance to have that old bridge set diagonally in the road without any lights or safeguards.

GREAT WELCOME TO BROUGHTON

By Crowd of 3,500 Atlantans, Minister Is Greeted.

Dr. Broughton Announced That Russell Conwell and Robert Burdette Had Agreed to Aid Him in Tabernacle Plans, Speaking at First Meeting.

By Edward Young Clarke.

To a wildly cheering crowd of 3,500 people, who, through the intensity of their joy and enthusiasm, rose to their feet, Rev. Len G. Broughton, D. D., was formerly welcomed home by the Baptist Tabernacle last night. And not only was this welcome extended by the Tabernacle, but every walk of Atlanta's life was present to join in the welcome, and speakers of prominence loudly proclaimed that Atlanta was joyful and thankful over his safe return.

Surrounding Dr. Broughton on the platform representatives of all the religious forces of the city, the press and the business life, and to the intense satisfaction and approval of the audience Dr. Broughton was pronouced by all as, "Atlanta's Greatest Preacher!"

In his masterful and finished address of the occasion Hon. John Temple Graves went even further than the above statement declaring, while the audience cheered, that Dr. Broughton, since Sam Jones had died, was America's greatest living preacher and the world's best-known religious worker.

Attention was called during the meeting to resolutions adopted by Westminster church of London, where Dr. Broughton spoke during September and of which Rev. G. Campbell Morgan and others are pastors, declaring that Dr. Broughton had served the church in his brief stay with preaching the like of which English audiences had seldom before heard, and expressing their profound regret that he could not be kept in England.

At the meeting was also launched the new and magnificent proposition of the half-million-dollar institutional church work which the Tabernacle proposes.

Mr. Graves was present to speak on behalf of the citizens' committee in charge of the armory and auditorium of the city. He said that he was there to pledge the hearty support of the press and business interests of Atlanta to the proposed institutional church and auditorium of the Tabernacle.

Atlanta, he said, had built many notable things, but she could not build one that would be more notable than this. No conflict he said lay in the proposed city auditorium and the Tabernacle building.

The Tabernacle structure, he said, would be for religious gatherings and the city auditorium for political gatherings. The two were needed, he said, and both would certainly be built.

On the platform with Dr. Broughton, besides a number of well-known persons, were the following very prominent Atlantans:

Dr. Landrum Speaks.

Dr. W. W. Landrum spoke on behalf of the Baptist ministers conference, and for the Baptists of Georgia, expressing their attitude over the return of Dr. Broughton. He said in part:

"I know of no man or minister in Atlanta whose home-coming could carry such joy to so many people as that of Dr. Broughton's. He is fast becoming the best known minister in the world.

"He has loomed so large that he has been seen from hair to heel (laughter), and consequently the Baptist Tabernacle is not alone in welcoming him home.

"When Dr. Broughton came to Atlanta I told him I was going to stay by him whether right or wrong. To stay by him if right because it was a Christian's duty, and to stay by him if wrong in order to get him straight. (Laughter.)

"And I want to say that the Baptists and the people of Atlanta are going to give the Tabernacle just the building they want. Indeed I look for the time to come when you will hear the people say 'If you want a shine, hair cut, bath, dinner, or anything whatsoever, why just go to the Atlanta Tabernacle, the ten-story building of Broughton's over there.' (Much laughter.)

"Indeed I believe that the Tabernacle is preparing for its people a miniature world. And Dr. Broughton is planning wisely in so doing. He wants to keep his people out of the world by building for them the kind of world he wishes them to be in.

"He is afraid to trust his people out on the common streets and in the common world, as I can my people. He dare not let his people pick their own world—therefore he builds one for them. (Much laughter.)

"We need one big institutional church in Atlanta, and it is going to be built, and that right away."

Dr. Jones Speaks.

On behalf of all the denominations in Atlanta, Rev. Charles O. Jones spoke. He said in part:

"Ever since I have been in Atlanta I have stood by Dr. Broughton in pen and words. Dr. Broughton uses dynamite in his work, but praise God he uses it to blow up the strongholds of iniquity.

Dr. Broughton has a way of doing things, and this is what the world wants of us today. He does things because he stays near the God of the burning bush.

"I hope that the enterprise he is now starting which is attracting the attention of the whole country, will not be a Baptist Tabernacle affair, but will be a whole city enterprise. I hope he will get large and liberal donations from every denomination in the city.

"And when the building rears itself to the skies I want him to have on it two towers: One lower than the other. On the lower tower I want him to fly at all times the stars and stripes of our great and glorious country. On the higher one I want him to fly the flag of Christ, of pure white with a crimson cross on a blue ground."

Dr. Broughton and a number of others spoke, among them being Hon. John Temple Graves. Dr. Broughton showed that the proposed building would be a wise business investment as well as a magnificent Christian church property.

He announced that Russell H. Conwell, of Philadelphia, the world's greatest institutional church here, that is the tured in Atlanta on "Acres of Diamonds" and Robert Burdette, of Los Angeles, who is pastor of the new institutional church there ,that is the amazement of the west, had both written him to get the preliminaries ready and they would come and take part in the opening meeting, at which the enterprise would be launched.

This announcement caused wild enthusiasm, as well it might, for it assures the project from the very jump for Dr. Broughton to be able to command these two leading lights in institutional church work, not only of America, but of the world.

WEST POINT'S NEW SECTION.

If Train 37 Is Reported Three Hours Late, the First Section Will Leave Here on Time.

An advantage which will mean much to the Atlanta and the southern traveling public is the announcement that the Atlanta and West Point will send a first section from Atlanta to Montgomery and New Orleans on time when train No. 37 of the Southern railway is reported more than three hours late.

This move has been contemplated for some time, and General Passenger Agent Billups yesterday announced that this section will leave Atlanta in the future for the accommodation of those passengers who wish to travel south on this fast train, and do not want to be kept waiting in case the through train from New York and Washington is reported three hours or more late. The time for the departure of 37 from Atlanta for Montgomery and New Orleans is 4:20 p. m.

Belts, Veil-bars and Collars

The latest word of La Mode has charming emphasis in our gathering of these pretty trifles. Trifles? In a way only. For a large proportion of the truly smart woman's success with her appearance lies in her attention to just these accessories.

There's a gay, warm, oriental touch in these belts, collars and pins. Maybe it's the greenish-gold with rich setting of semi-precious stones in soft and dashing tints. Maybe it's the hint of the barbaric in the arabesques and the scarab motifs. But it's there and it's ultra smart.

Come in to see these bits of beauty.

Anniversary Party.

MR. AND MRS. W. R. JENNISON entertained last night at the first of a series of card parties, and celebrated at the same time the tenth anniversary of their marriage.

The occasion was a delightful one, not large, but happy with the spirit of a graceful hospitality. The house was artistic in its decorations, principally of white and green, although autumn leaves in their typical shades of red and yellow and brown were used as a rich basic effect. Roses and carnations shed their fragrance from frequent vases and bowls in all the card rooms, and handsome palms were used with conventional grace. The score cards were hand-painted wedding bells in green and white and silver, and the ice cream, which followed a delicious hot course, was molded in the form of wedding bells.

The first prize for the ladies was a jeweled comb in amber, for the men a Venetian glass liqueur set, and the consolation was a brass candlestick.

Mrs. Jennison was strikingly handsome in black, her gown of thread lace, and among her guests, Mrs. Richard Elliott Miller was notably pretty in a pink taffeta gown trimmed with guipure lace. Mrs. R. A. Harris wore a becoming toilet in white silk mull and lace. Mrs. Frank Pearson was admired in a white moire gown. Mrs. Rogers Davis wore a becoming blue taffeta gown trimmed with cluny lace and buttons of turquoise and brilliants. Mrs. Van Astor Batchelor was charming in tan voile embroidered.

Mrs. McGhee's Luncheon.

MRS. CHARLES C. McGHEE'S luncheon yesterday at the Capital City Club was a beautiful affair in honor of Miss Ethel Mobley.

The guests of the occasion were Miss Mobley and her bridesmaids, and they were seated around a table brilliant in white and green. The centerpiece was of white chrysanthemums tied with green tulle, and candles, place cards, etc. were in the same colors.

Mrs. McGhee was handsomely gowned in green moire and heavy cream lace with which she wore a cream felt hat trimmed with plumes.

Miss Mobley wore a white cloth tailor gown over a lace waist and a black picture hat. Miss Jennie Mobley wore a pale blue silk gown and a black hat trimmed with blue plumes. Miss Roline Clarke wore a blue radium silk gown, accordion plaited, and a black hat with a long white ostrich plume. The Horner home, with its spacious hall-way library, billiard room and dining room, is beautifully adapted to entertaining, and combining with the attractiveness of the decorations, bright lights and luxury of palms and flowers, there was the gracious hospitality of the host and hostess to make the occasion a complete success.

In the reception room, where the guests were received, the decorations were entirly of palms and white chrysanthemums, while in the library adjoining there were palms in brass jardinieres and vases of American Beauty roses.

In the billiard room the same decorative effective continued, and the punch bowl, in a large silver waiter, had banke daround it great clusters of Malaga grapes. In the square hallway, where the wood work of Flemish oak panels the walls, there was a suggestion of the season at hand, in the branches and sprays of autumn tinted berries clustered in full-leafed foliage, and showing from behind the sidelights, in the cabinets, and in the broad-open fireplace.

In the dining room the decorations were in pink—pink-shaded silver candlesticks on the mantel and cabinets, while the table from which the dainties were served had a center piece in a bowl of pink-tinted chrysanthemums. About this were four trast cups in Bohemian glass, holding pink bonbons, and silver dishes holding the same. The sumptuous repast served included hot and cold meats, salads and all the accessories of a delicious supper.

Music was one of the features of the evening's pleasure, and invited to meet Miss Peel, Mr. Tilt and their friends from a distance were a party of Atlanta people including Miss Peel's friends in the married and unmarried set. Whitehead and others.

Mrs. Horner received her guests in a Parisian toilet of black thread lace and velvet, the delicate pattern of the lace brought out effectively by the amber-tinted satin over which the gown is fashioned.

CONSTITUTION PATTERNS

A SMALL EMPIRE GOWN.

Mother is not the only one for whom Dame Fashion has modeled Empire gowns. The effect of this style upon the little maid is altogether fetching and picturesque. The gown sketched is made of white lawn with ribbon run beading of valenciennes forming collar, cuffs and Empire waistband. Pairs of tiny tucks suggest a yoke in front and back and provide a pretty fulness for the blouse and skirt. The latter may be adorned with a group of small tucks or a row or two of insertion. The little dress may be elaborate or simple as desired. Lawn, mull, challis or a soft henrietta may be used as material. For the medium size the pattern calls for 2 5-8 yards of 36-inch material.

"Real Love Letters of a Real Girl"

"I am not going to beat the big drum of sentiment and make a wailful noise. Nothing is so dead as a dead infatuation. The more a person has been infatuated, the more he resents an attempt to galvanize the dull, dead thing into life. I am wise, you see, to the end. And reasonable, too, I hope. And brave. And brave, I tell you. Do you think I will be a coward, and cry out? I make you a present of everything; of the love and happy thoughts, of the pleasant dreams and plans, of the little prayers sent up, and the blessings called down—there were a great many every day—of the kisses, and all the dear sweetness. Take it all. I want nothing from you in return. But do you suppose that, having given you all this, I am going to give you my soul as well? To moan my life away, my beautiful life? You are not worth it. You are not worth anything, hardly. You are unstable, invertebrate. My life shall be splendid in spite of you. You shall not cheat me of one single chance of heaven."—(From Fraulein Schmidt and Mr. Anstruther in the November Delineator.)

MOUNTAIN BOYS LOSE TO GORDON

Dahlonega Player Blocked a Punt and Made a Touchdown.

Barnesville, Ga., October 22.—(Special.) Gordon won from Dahlonega this afternoon in a pretty game on the local gridiron, by a score of 10 to 5. The visitors averaged 5 pounds to the man heavier than the Gordon boys, but the home team outplayed them.

A Dahlonega halfback broke through the line, blocked a kick and ran on for a touchdown.

Gordon's two touchdowns were made by steady playing. Mercer proved the surest ground gainer, for Gordon and Williams, Hill and others made good gains. The forward pass was worked successfully by Gordon, but Dahlonega depended on line plays, Fullback Sims being their mainstay. Dahlonega showed great improvement over last year's play. The time of halves was 20 minutes.

IN THE COURTS

E. R. Sherman, a white man bent beneath the weight of 60 years, stood before Judge Roan in the superior court yesterday morning and pleaded guilty to the charge of attempting to burglarize the home of Judge R. T. Dorsey, 171 Capitol avenue. He pleaded that he did not know what he was doing on that occasion, being addicted to the use of cocaine and morphine and was under influence of a drug at the time he entered Judge Dorsey's home. The evidence showed, however, that Sherman had removed his shoes to enter the house, and that he had attempted to hold up Judge Dorsey and his son with a revolver when they discovered him. Judge Roan sentenced Sherman to a term of six years in the penitentiary, where every opportunity will be given him to become cured of the drug habit.

T. L. Owens, a white man aged 40 years, formerly the driver of the Grady hospital ambulance, and lately foreman of the yard force at Van Winkle's, was put on trial yesterday in the superior court before Judge Roan, charged with an unnatural crime against his 16-year-old daughter, Bertie, who gave salacious testimony against him.

Owens' wife and son were seated by him in court, and believe in his innocence. In his statement to the jury Owens stoutly denied every statement made by his daughter, saying that she was wayward, and that his attempts to control her had aroused her animosity, resulting in her laying this charge against him by way of revenge.

Owens is being defended by John W. Moore and J. A. Branch, who will make the concluding argument in the case this morning.

Rev. Homer Harris, a negro Baptist preacher who lives on Spring street, was arrested early yesterday morning at East Point by County Officer Wright upon advices from Griffin, where he had attended a Baptist convention, that Harris had stolen a gray mule and buggy, the property of John Boynton, a white man.

Harris explained to Officer Wright that while walking around at the meeting he saw the mule and buggy and concluded that it would be a good means of returning to Atlanta, for which he at once set out, making the 45-mile trip in nine hours. He returned to Griffin by the same conveyance, but the sheriff of Spalding county occupied a seat in the buggy beside him.

The county policemen are making a crusade against negro gamblers outside of the city limits. County Officer Dunbar bagged ten of them Sunday while they were playing "skin" near the Chattahoochee brick works.

The murder cases against some forty negroes in jail under indictment for the murder of County Officer Heard will be tried Thursday morning. The majority of the defendants will be represented by R. R. Shropshire and John W. Moore.

Upon the petition of W. A. Teat et al., purchasers of debentures sold by the Atlanta Debenture Company, Judge Pendleton on yesterday issued an order restraining W. H. Morrow, who is alleged to be at the head of the concern, to preserve the present status until October 27, at which time he must show cause why a receiver should not be appointed as prayed by the petitioners.

Petitioners allege that they have paid in some $1,500, and that Morrow has dissipated the funds of the company instead of investing them, and that he refuses to allow the books of the company to be examined. They therefore pray the appointment of a receiver in order that the books may be examined and the status of the concern ascertained.

James R. Gray, A. G. Candler, W. L. Peel and many other porminent business men, are petitioners in a petition filed yesterday in the superior court for a charter for the Atlanta Armory-Auditorium Company. The company is to be capitalized at $75,000. C. L. Anderson, Preston S. Arkwright and Jack J. Spalding represent the petitioners.

BARROW FAVORS GRIDIRON GAME

Head of University Gives His Views on Football.

While He Used to Disfavor Game, He Now Looks on It as Valuable Sport, and Names Many Good Lessons It Contains.

Athens, Ga., October 22.—(Special.)—Football enthusiasts will find much comfort in the views expressed by Chancellor David C. Barrow, of the University of Georgia. Once he was opposed to the game, but having watched it for a number of years, he is now an enthusiastic advocate of it.

Chancellor Barrow has always taken a lively interest in the athletic sports of the college. He never misses a game. He is always in the crowd that cheers on the Red and Black to victory. He derives a genuine pleasure from the games and rejoices with the boys as much as if he were a member of the team.

A few days since Chancellor Barrow was heard to remark that he had some views of his own about football and that he believed the game to be of benefit rather than injury to the student. He was requested to write out those views for the public, and here they are:

"I used to be opposed to what is now called football. When I was a boy from fifty to one hundred of us at a time used to play on the front campus. We used to pick sides: if a silver coin was not handy—and in those days coins were scarce—the leaders would spit on a chip and toss it up for first choice. After the boys had been equally divided the fun began.

"It was against the rule to put your hand on the ball; you had to kick it all the time. It was fun alive! The strong boy and the fast boy were in demand then, just as they are now. There was no training, and not so much skill as nowadays, but good courage and 'a head on you' were required.

"Naturally, I looked with disfavor on 'elevens' and "trainers, and the system and restrictions of the game with rules.

"I never have liked paying to see a game. I would rather contribute to the expense fund, and have the game free.

"I can, however, see something in the game which seems to me very valuable. I realize that it is not fashionable to speak in favor of football, but I have watched it ever since it came to Georgia, and have formed some opinions about it.

"1. Frankly, it is a rough game. I have seen one game under the new rules, and while I believe it will be much less rough than it was, I do not consider that it is yet in the class of parlor croquet, or even ring marbles. I am a great believer in ring marbles, but I consider that football is not in the same class with that game, even under the new rules.

"I say this, however, and I believe my observant man will bear me out in it, more men are saved by the training than are injured by the game. I like the open. Public opinion regulates what it sees. I dread the hidden things. Make a boy keep training and you have gone far toward making him keep well and strong.

"There is less danger from being bruised up than from being burnt up. Of course there is the reply that he should not be either bruised or burnt. No one assents to this more readily than I, if you can accomplish it. The grave yard is full of burnt-up men. It has seemed to me, after anxious if not wise consideration, that the effect of training is valuable, the lesson from training most valuable, in a community of young citizens.

"2. It has, to a large extent, stopped fighting. Maybe it was the war-time spirit, but the boys used to fight far more than they do now. Sometimes you got sure-enough hurt, too. I do not care to go into details on this line, but I am sure the older graduates, who knew former conditions and who know present conditions, will agree with me.

"3. It is the best training in self-control I know of, certainly so for a young man. It does only harm to lose your head. When you get beat, cheer the winner. Put up the best game you can, and take it for your part. I sometimes think that the scrubs get about the best training on the gridiron. They fail to get the 'G,' many of them do not expect it, but they do get the consciousness of knowing they have built up the team, and their individual training besides.

"Go it, my scrubs! You are learning valuable lessons.

"4. The game builds up college spirit. This is true. Casual observers say. After all, only a few boys take part. This is a mistake. Even I take part. A 'gets behind his team' will learn to 'get not but believe that the stutent who 'gets behint his team' will learn to 'get behind his community.' He will uphold the government, he will become a better citizen. This is why I desire, above all things, to have a genuine team. Let the student feel that it is his team and he will take pride in it.

"So he will feel the community in which he lives is his community, the state is his state, the country is his country. In the game of government he may not 'make the team,' he may not care to, but I do believe he will learn to 'get behind the team.'

"The state needs every educated man it can get. These men must be temperate in habit, aggressive in enterprise, patriotic in emotion, in order to be of highest service."

NO COLD WAVE IS LOOKED FOR

Indications Are That Dixie Will Escape Low Temperature.

Partly cloudy is the forecast for Atlanta today, and there is no suggestion or suspicion that the high barometer and cold wave that is making its home over the far northwest, will make its influence felt on the sunshine of Georgia for the immediate present. Yesterday morning this cold wave, with temperatures as low as 18 degrees below zero, was reported central over Montana. The reports received by the weather bureau last night showed that this center had moved very slowly, having only traveled to the Dakotas last night.

These conditions do not favor any big drop in the temperature in Atlanta and Georgia for the present, if at all. It is believed that, as this high barometer is moving so slowly, its influence may not reach Dixie. Even if it does, this will not occur until tonight at the very earliest, and probably not until tomorrow or next day; that is, providing there is any change.

While the chances are excellent that the south will escape any severe results, the western country was affected, Kansas coming in for a decided drop in temperature. More than this, the reports indicated that still lower temperatures would prevail in the west, with the moving of the center.

ATLANTA BOY IN CAST OF "THE LITTLE JOKER"

"THE LITTLE JOKER," which will be produced at the Grand opera house tonight and Wednesday matinee and night, will have a local interest on account of the presence in the cast of Harry Burgess, an old Atlanta boy, who has been in the theatrical game for some time.

Mr. Burgess lived in Atlanta several years ago, but went east and engaged in the theatrical profession. He "made good" at the start, and when Arthur Dunn, the star, looked about him to secure the best men obtainable for "The Little Joker" he selected Mr. Burgess for one of the important parts.

Mr. Burgess was seen in Atlanta several reasons ago with Frank Deshon in "The Office Boy." He is pleasantly remembered, both by his old friends and associates in this city and by those whom he won as friends when he appeared in a professional capacity.

"The Little Joker" is said to be one of the best offerings of the season, abounding in catchy music and clever dialogue, set off by a pretty chorus and gorgeous scenic productions.

HARRY BURGESS,
Atlanta boy with "The Little Joker" Company.

THEATERS.

At the Grand.

"The Little Duchess," with Countess Olga Von Hatzfeldt, was the attraction at the Grand last night. Little Arthur Dunn and a company in "The Little Joker" will be the attraction tonight. It is well. The countess is a winsome little bit of femininity, but her voice is too much in keeping with her petite figure to fill a large auditorium. And yet her work with that of Robert Lett, as the bathing master, in impersonations brought out several curtain calls. These and the songs of Mr. Lett were much the best things of the evening. Eugene O'Brien made much of a small part, while Harry Carter had opportunities that were not improved.

As for the work of the chorus—but no! There are other places which have not seen the very dimunitive duchess, and why dampen their anticipations? But this trying to double up Gibson-sized show girls into wee little chorus girls during the first part of the performance won't do. It is when this sort of thing is attempted in the south that the matter is worthy of attention. Between the wee little chorus girl with her skirts at half mast and the supposedly "stately" show girl there is a great gulf fixed that cannot be bridged with the changing of the costume. And a chorus of tall women in this day is too much like a large bunch of Jerseys in a small front yard. Both are all right. It's the combination that jars. In a burst of confidence, the management admitted that five of the chorus made their first appearance last night. This demands charity. But at the same time, to many it seemed that there were still some very fine openings in this same chorus for clever girls. But in spite of some dragging, and the principals mentioned, together with Irving Brooks, the performance entertained many, if applause is any criterion. But to alter that chorus, nine chances out of ten would be to improve it.

A. R.

At the Bijou.

The several "all right, all right's" interspersed along in the lines of "The Awakening of Mr. Pipp" last night at the Bijou, taken in the real meaning, will tell the value of the concoction of humor that entertained the standing room only crowd, many of whom had seen the play several times before and yet enjoyed it as much as they did the initial presentation.

Almost everyone knows the story, and it was cleverly retold by Charles Grapewin and Miss Anna Chance in the lead, with a capable cast, beautiful costumes and attractive stage settings to make the whole a pleasing performance. The musical numbers, all of which were catchy, were well rendered and run it at opportune times and the terpsichorean features by Miss Bessie Kyle and her Bucking Bronchos had their share in the audience's approval.

Charles Grapewin as Mr. Pipp, fits the part exactly, and the way in which he enters into his work has much to do with the hit he is making. Probably the best number musically was his "You'll Be Sorry in the Morning," sung on the verge of his first jag in a year. This is one of Mr. Grapewin's own compositions and was exceedingly well taken.

To some the "cold gray dawn of the morning after" scene may be overdrawn, but there was not enough of it for the first nighters, and they displayed good judgment. Miss Chance, as Mrs. Pipp, is good in this scene, the most of which is done by her and Mr. Grapewin. While the play is styled a farce comedy, pathos or something like it, comes dangerously near to making its appearance along here, for it must be that the sight of a husband just recovering from a night out is heartrending to a young wife. Any way, there were real tears in it.

The most of the last act is song and dance, but it is too clever and it may be said that from beginning and to end "The Awakening of Mr. Pipp" is good. The rest of the company capably fill their parts and altogether the play to be at the Bijou this week with the regular matinees is worth while.

"The Little Joker" at the Grand.

The comedian, Arthur Dunn, comes to the Grand tonight in an entirely new offering, "The Little Joker," a musical comedy in two acts, written by the well known author, Herbert Hall Winslow, with lyrics by William O'Day and music by Anna Caldwell and other popular song writers. The first act is at a summer hotel in the Adirondack mountains, where "Punch Swift," the character played by Mr. Dunn, comes immediately on his arrival from a prolonged stay in Europe. The second act is at the elaborate country house of the young man. The comedy is bright in dialogue, replete with original and delightful musical numbers, and abounds with laughable situations and complications.

Mr. Dunn sings and dances in his inimitable way and the songs and parodies are all new and said to be bright and catchy. Some of the best song hits are "The Little Joker," "May I," "The Widow," "Terasita," "If I Were Only Taller," and "The Fairest Flower in Dixie." A large and competent company has been engaged, chief among whom are Marie Glazer, Kitty Nelson, Jean Salsbury, Ann Dale, Bessie Franklin Harry Leone, Gus Thomas, Oliver Holden, Louis Christie, all backed by a chorus of twenty of the prettiest singing and dancing girls ever seen in one group, and a line of Broadway's most handsome show girls, all gowned in the latest fashions of representative costumers, making in all a dazzling array of life, color and beauty.

"Zaza" Coming to the Grand.

"Zaza," well staged, beautifully costumed and presented by a company of splendid merit, with Miss Mabel Montgomery in the title role, will be the attraction for the Grand on Thursday matinee and night of this week.

Miss Motngomery is spoken of as one of the most capable and convincing of emotional actresses and her work in the part of Zaza has been eulogized in such a manner as to warrant the assertion that Atlantans have one of the real treats of the season in the coming engagement of this star in Pierre Berot's great play.

The management promises a complete production with every little detail cared for and costumes that will be in keeping with the high tone of the attraction.

Secondary Thoughts of the Drama.

Often it is the side issue, the secondary thought in the drama, that gives it its chief charm. To many this is true in the case of Clyde Fitch's greatest play, "Her Own Way," which will be seen at the Grand Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday matinee, under the management of Jules Murry. The side issue which has dominated the strong love feature of the play has been caused by the introduction of a number of children who dominate the first act. In the first act is Philip's birthday party. The children he has gathered around him are types of healthy youngsters, all of whom make comments on the goodies spread before them; of their host and hostess, and of their grown-up friends with the sang froid of the little men and women of the nursery. No one is free from the penetrating eyes and caustic tones of Elaine, Christopher and Toots and neither can they excuse their grandmother, Mrs. Carley for her make up, nor the infatuation of Moles, the footman, for the maid Lizzie.

Mrs. Ziegler's enterprise will be the first periodical to enter its peculiar field. Walter G. Holmes, who has been long interested in work for the blind, and through whom Mrs. Ziegler had her attention called to the need for printing literature for their need, will put the magazine under way. He has engaged offices at 1913 Broadway, and is anxious that knowledge of the magazine shall be brought to the attention of all blind persons, so they may send their names and addresses to him. They should say what type they read, "New York point" or "Braille," as the magazine will be printed in both. Mrs. Ziegler's magazine will contain stories of the news of the day, fiction, special articles designed to interest blind people, particularly an industrial department wherein blind people may find information as to the lines of work in which they are engaged, and a correspondence department.

CONTRACTION OF WINDPIPE KILLS "NEWSBOYS' FRIEND"

CHICAGO, October 22.—Isaac Woolf, head of a large clothing company, was found dead in his bed yesterday at his residence. He had died of a contraction of the windpipe, which caused strangulation.

He was 54 years old. For the last twenty-five years Mr. Woolf had been known as the "newsboys' friend." Every year he gave a newsboys' dinner. From unpretentious beginnings—there were 100 ragged and hungry little guests served at the first—the feast has grown to one of increasing importance, numerically considered. Last year 10,000 newsboys and other hungry urchins from the streets and poorer tenement districts attended the Thanksgiving dinner. Every one considered Mr. Woolf as his personal friend, and the clothing merchant encouraged this feeling. Many of them had been to previous dinners given by the man, who, in his boyhood, had been a newsboy himself. There were 550 turkeys and many other good things. The expense was $5,000.

KANSAS BEGUN ROMANCE CULMINATED IN MACON

MACON, GA., October 22.—(Special.) A love that began long ago made two natives of Kansas happy when the old ceremony was said by Rev. T. D. Ellis at the Mulberry Street Methodist parsonage this morning. Mrs. M. L. Dotson came all the way from Kansas City, at the bidding of F. I. Coe, who has been connected with the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company here for a short period of time. The couple is now on the way to Winston-Salem, N. C., where they will make their future home. Mrs. Dotson and daughter came to the Brown house last night, and arrangements were made for the ceremony today. Both are middle age, and the scene of their courtship was Kansas City.

CONSTITUTION AD. GAINED POSTURE GEORGIA BRIDE

Fort Gaines, Ga., October 22.—(Special.)—A very romantic marrige was that of Miss Ada Chase to Mr. J. T. Posture, of Kansas City. Mr. Posture advertised in The Constitution about one year ago for a young lady to correspond with him—matrimony the object. Miss Chase accepted the correspondence and the marriage was the result. Miss Chase had been housekeeper for several years for a family who took a great interest in her welfare, as she was indeed a worthy young woman and has friends among the best families. When the fact was known to the lady with whom she lived, she wrote to the mayor and parties of his town to know what character he bore. They found he was all right, was a Swede and owned property and had a nicely furnished home for his wife. He came promptly, according to the engagement, and brought her letters to identify himself. He made quite a favorable impression here, and after the ceremony, which was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Brown, where she had been as a member of the family so long, they left on the 2:30 train for their future home. The best wishes of many friends and relatives wafted after them. A sister of Miss Chase married some two years ago under similar circumstances and was fortunate in her venture. The young man came from Pennsylvania and is doing well.

Macon Enjoys Circus Day.

Macon, Ga., October 22.—(Special.)—Today the little boy and the big elephant are two of the most prominent and conspicuous figures before the gaze of the thousands of people who come to attend the Barnum & Bailey circus. Many people have crowded the streets all day. People thronged the streets by 10 o'clock, and later in the day the city was well filled with people seemingly from the entire country districts within a radius of fifty miles.

The circus carried the crowds to Central City Park as few other attractions have in recent days.

SUITS FOR COMMISSIONS.

Big Sale of Timber Lands Brings Up Legal Fight.

Norfolk, Va., October 22.—Suits aggregating $23,500 for commissions, whereby the Virginia-Carolina Lumber Company, of Spring Hope, N. C., sold to the Montgomery Lumber Company for $135,000, all of its timber land holdings in the counties of Nash and Franklin, N. C., were instituted in the federal court here this afternoon.

The plaintiff in the first instance is A. R. Smith, who claims $7,500, including damages, on an agreement to pay him $5,000 if the sale of the Virginia-Carolina Lumber Company's property was brought about on an option given to G. Fred Johnson for a sale of the property at not less than $145,000.

The plaintiff in the second instance is G. Fred Johnson, who sues for commissions on the sale at 10 per cent and damages, claiming to have brought about the sale to the Montgomery company through M. B. Tremaine, whom he introduced, and to whom he first offered the property at $175,000, Tremaine refusing it at this figure because, it is alleged, he did not find the class and quantity of timber the owning company first claimed was on its land.

ROOSEVELT'S TRIP TO PANAMA.

President Has Selected Battleship Louisiana for Flagship.

Philadelphia, October 22.—Official notice has been posted at League Island navy yard to the effect that the cruiser Washington will leave on or about November for Hampton Roads. The Tennessee, it is expected, will pass out a couple of days later and the two warships will act as escort for President Roosevelt on his trip to Panama.

The president has selected the new battleship Louisiana for his flagship during the voyage. His plan now is to go aboard the Louisiana at New York on November 8, and to join the convoy at Hampton Roads. It is possible, however, that he will go down the Potomac on the yacht Dolphin and meet the Louisiana. The trip will require about six days each way. The sailors and marines on the Washington and Tennessee are elated at having been chosen as the president's escort. These vessels are the newest and among the best cruisers in the navy. Neither has her full complement of men, but when the Minneapolis and Brooklyn arrive from Havana part of their crews will be transferred. A farewell ball given by the officers and men of the Tennessee will take place tomorrow night. Four hundred invitations have been issued and guests will be present from as far distant as Tennessee.

DEAL IN STOCKS BROKE HENNING

Large Operator on the New York Exchange Goes Under.

New York, October 22.—The failure of J. W. Henning, an operator on the New York stock exchange, was announced on the floor of the exchange today. Henning was a large trader on the exchange. It is said he suffered losses in Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul stock in April last.

Nearly all of Mr. Henning's business was confined to New York city interests and it is not believed that the failure will affect any large out-of-town accounts. The failure is believed to have resulted from over trading in the heavy slump in the market late last week. Mr. Henning's brother, S. C. Henning, said he is confident that his brother will be able to resume very soon.

Mr. Henning was one of the large floor traders on the New York stock exchange. He had a number of wealthy clients and often handled heavy blocks of stocks. It is believed the failure will involve a large amount of money.

Mr. Henning also is a well-known horseman and has maintained a large private stable.

The suspension of P. T. White, a heavy trader, was announced on the Consolidated stock exchange today. Under the rules, Mr. White will have twenty-four hours to fulfill his contracts.

FORTY NEGROES INJURED

And One Killed by Derailment on Southern Pacific.

New Orleans, La., October 22.—(Special) The derailing of the "Sunset Limited" on the Southern Pacific near here today injured about forty negroes, one of whom ided immediately after the wreck, while others are fatally hurt. Three white passengers were injured. The engine, mail and baggag cars and one passenger coach, that reserved for negroes, left the rails.

The "Sunset Limited" tourist for California left here about noon and the accident occurred at Boutte, which, although only 24 miles west of here, is a run of an hour and a half, owing to the river and intervening swamps. The first reports of the accident telephoned back to the city by New Orleans residents said that the train had overturned and that many persons were killed and about a hundred injured. The Southern Pacific officers here said that they had no information except that the train had been derailed. A special train bearing physicians and wreckers was hurried to Boutte.

About thirty injured negroes were brought here by train tonight, all of them sufferings from minor cuits and sprains. They said the car had overturned and rolled into the ditch. Their clothing and hair was matted with dried mud, through which they had crawled in getting out of the car.

The arrival of this car load of injured and the fact that no seriously injured were aboard quieted keen anxiety here.

Exaggerated stories about the wreck had been in circulation because of the fact that immediately after its occurrence two passengers from New Orleans hastily telephoned back to the city that several persons had been killed. Reports direct from Boutte indicate that these two passengers jumped at the conclusion that there had been considerable loss of life when they saw the engine, baggage and mail cars and one coach lying in the muddy ditch.

TO APPOINT TARIFF EXPERTS

Berlin, October 22.—The announcement that Secretary Root has decided to appoint two tariff experts to visit German and consult with German customs officials and boards of trade for the purpose of obtaining material for possible modifications of administrative features of the American tariff laws, which have been the subject of much complaint on the part of German exporting interests, was received in the foreign office here in the most favorable spirit. The fact has been that the group of officials at the foreign office dealing with the subject of the proposed new commercial arrangement between Germany and the United States did not know precisely what step to take next in reopening the question which, in its normal course, must be settled by June 30 next. It is believed here that Secretary Root's decision is likely to contribute greatly to an ultimate understanding on the subject.

MOVE TO SECURE FOREIGN LABOR

Savannah Chamber of Commerce Makes Movement.

Meeting Has Been Called of Representatives From the Towns and Cities Interested to Meet in Savannah on Next Saturday.

Constitution Bureau, 467 Second Street, Macon, Ga., October 22.—(Special.)—Through the efforts of the Savannah chamber of commerce, a score of south Georgia towns and cities have, within the past month, become very much interested in a movement to bring desirable labor here from England, Germany, Switzerland, Ireland and Scotland. A meeting has been called of representatives of as many towns as care to take interest, to be held in the offices of the Savannah chamber of commerce next Saturday, for the purpose of organizing a cooperative immigration association.

Attention is called to the strong cry from every field of industry in the southern portion of the state for more substantial labor. The cotton mills and fields, the turpentine farms, the sawmills and the big plantations, it is stated in the call, are in bad need of workmen that cannot be found within the limits of the section.

Attention is called to the methods South Carolina has followed in securing thousands of skilled workmen from distant countries, and the need of such course to supply Georgia is very generally conceded.

Dr. Jeff Davis, of Toccoa, writes that 3,500 to 4,000 good employees are needed in Georgia cotton mills alone. The effort will be made in the Savannah meeting to meet the long-heard cry for more labor.

Macon and many cities and towns will be represented in the meeting, and strong interest has been manifested outside of Savannah. Good results are looked for, and people have charge who will push plans to a full realization of the purposes.

The funeral will be conducted at the Gordon Methodist church tomorrow morning, Rev. Mr. Johnson officiating.

Macon, Ga., October 22.—(Special.)—John Harris, a negro visitor in Macon attending the circus, was lodged in a cell at police station this afternoon charged with having robbed a small negro boy of a small sum of money. Harris denied the charge, but will remain in prison till a hearing is had tomorrow morning.

Macon Wants Agricultural College.

Macon, Ga., October 22.—(Special.)—A meeting of the directors of the Macon chamber of commerce has been called for Wednesday afternoon for the purpose of discussing the probability of securing one of the agricultural colleges soon to be established under act of the legislature. T. B. West, one of the trustees for this district, will be present and the matter will be freely discussed.

Macon and the farmers of Bibb county will be very much interested in the selection of places for at least one, and there are numbers of persons who will be eager for Macon to be named for one. Plans will be made at the meeting to take care of the interest of this district.

Mr. and Mrs. Hart Repel Statement.

Macon, Ga., October 22.—(Special.)—Alderman and Mrs. Jesse B. Hart are the subjects of a sensation which they have repelled in rather severe terms today, the statements being made in an afternoon news account that they had narrowly escaped death and that had it not been for a call to take charge of the remains of a dead man, both would have been corpses. They really suffered slightly from escaping gas at their home on Saturday night.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hart were out from their home as usual yesterday and thought nothing of the matter until today in flaring headlines they were told of their close call. They found news in the item as well as did others.

CONTEST BEGUN FOR A MILLION

Legal Steps to Attach Hartford Life Property.

Security Trust Company Also Involved—Suit Is Brought by the Policy Holders to Force a Distribution of the Safety Fund.

Hartford, Conn., October 22.—Legal formalities necessary to attach in the sum of $1,000,000 the property of the Hartford Life Insurance Company and the Security Trust Company, both incorporated under the laws of this state, were carried out by the sheriff this afternoon on a suit brought against those two companies by attorneys representing about 20,000 certificate holders of the company in various parts of the country to compel the distribution of a so-called "safety fund" of the company, which amounts to over $1,000,000. A receiver is also asked for, and it is asked that the receiver be ordered to pay over to the certificate holders all sums received for the "safety fund." The suit is returned September 6.

The Hartford Insurance Company, which ceased active business in 1899, was organized on the stockholding plan in 1867, but since the former date has continued to collect premiums on outstanding certificates, as if it were continuing business, it being alleged that in 1899 the outstanding risks amounted to $90,000,000.

Prior to 1880 the company invented a plan of assessment life insurance, which was designated as "the safety fund plan," by which $3 was collected on each $1,000 of insurance and put into a fund, the surplus of which, when the fund reached $1,000,000, was to be distributed among the certificate holders.

The plaintiffs claim that the stockholders having authorized the collection of the assessment for the "safety fund" since 1899, although the company had ceased to write any more insurance, have thus far failed to make a distribution of the fund, and that the intent is to keep that fund for their own advantage through a final wiping out of certificates due to lapses following increased and exorbitant assessments. The plaintiffs include E. S. Amsden, Ormond, Fla.; H. C. VanLoon, Cincinnati; J. M. Bugg, Chipley, Ga., and Charles Ammen, New Orleans.

SERVICES IN JONES' MEMORY

Judge Frank Curry Pays an Eloquent Tribute to the Evangelist's Memory.

Jackson, Ga., October 22.—(Special.)—On yesterday at 11 o'clock, there was held in the Methodist church a very impressive service in memory of Sam Jones. The church was well filled and the service entered into with earnestness by those present.

Rev. Walter R. Branhan, the pastor in charge, spoke very feelingly of the dead evangelist, he having at one time been the pastor of the deceased. Professor W. P. Thomas, S. M. Pope, C. S. Maddox, G. W. Kinsman, R. P. Sasnett and Judge Frank Z. Curry spoke in high tribute of the life and character of the deceased.

After speaking of his early acquaintance with the deceased and the circumstances of the introduction, Judge Curry spoke as follows:

"Along with by brethren I desire today to drop a rose of memory at the grave of one of the bravest of the brave among the soldiers of the cross. I can't think of Sam Jones as dead. Men like him can never die. When the mighty earthquake rends the foundation of the briny deep, its stirs the waters from shore to shore, and when a life like that of Sam Jones has been lived, it touches the human race with a wave of influence for good, that will not be stilled till it lashes the shores of eternity.

"At the age of 25 years, Sam Jones, at the bedside of a dying father heard the voice of God calling him to a higher and better life. Like Saul of Tarsus, he heard and heeded the voice. From that day till he fell on the battlefield with his face towards the enemy, the eye of the critic world has been focused upon him.

"In the beginning, many said he would not hold out, but that he would backslide. Blessed be God, the older he grew the stronger he grew in the faith.

"The world criticised him and those near to him kept the battlefield ever black with the smoke of the fight. They then said he was in the church for the money he could get out of it. We find that he dies with practically nothing, as compared with the ehormious sums that have passed through his hands and found its way to a suffering humanity.

"Paul was a great man. He planted and Apollos watered. Sam Jones, too, was a great man. He planted, and future generations will water.

"I would not be true to the demands of this hour if I did not draw a lesson from his life. I say to each of you, that in the circle in which you move you can be missed as much when you die as the world will miss Sam Jones. The secret of this great pleasure which comes to the name of Sam Jones was his life of fidelity to God. Be true to God, and in this discharge of your duty to Him, you will have been true to mankind."

Four Men, Adrift for Hours on Logs, Are Rescued and Tell How Their Companions on a House Boat Were Lost.

Mobile, Ala., October 22.—The Mallory liner Colorado arrived at port today, having as passengers Joseph Meison, Charles Olsen, Charles Anderson and Otto Brink, who were picked up at sea Saturday morning by the vessel ninety miles off Key West. The men were found standing on a raft made out of six logs, and were in the water waist deep at the time. Meison said that he and the other men were on a houseboat at Long Key when the hurricane struck them and blew the boat to sea. It soon went to pieces and out of the 125 people on board, seventy-nine were drowned right before his eyes. The other forty-two have since been taken into Jacksonville, Fla. The men suffered terrible hardships. The men say that the loss of life was heavier off Long Key than any other point.

Then men were employed on the extension work of the Florida East Coast railway.

HONDURAS DEVASTATED BY TERRIBLE HURRICANE

Mobile, Ala., October 22.—The first news of a terrible West Indian hurricane that visited the towns of Ruatan, Tela, Utilla, Colorado and El Provonio, Honduras, on October 12, was brought here last night by the Norwegian steamer Harald, Henrichsen, that arrived with a cargo of fruit to the United Fruit Company. A number of vessels were wrecked, several destroyed, and the buildings in each of the towns mentioned badly damaged, and the loss to the owners of the fruit plantations will reach almost a cargo of fruit to the United States Com-Southern Queen was thrown on the beach at Ruatan and went to preces in less than an hour's time.

The Harald suffered some damage in the hurricane while at Ruatan, and will have to be docked. The cable went down in the storm and the Harald was the first vessel to leave the vicinity. The Harald went on the beach and in order to get back into deep water it was necessary to use an extra anchor and 78 fathoms of chain, steaming dead ahead at full speed. A tidal wave accompanied the hurricane and swept everything before it. Captain Henrichsen reports that when he left the beaches were strewn with vessels of all kinds including three large sailing vessels. No lives were reported lost at the time of the sailing of the Harald. Ten thousand bunches of bananas were reported swept into the sea at Ruatan and lost and the officers of the steamer say that it will be a month before some of the steamers wih be able to get any fruit.

COTTON OPENED AT SHARP ADVANCE

Due to Higher Cables and Bad Weather Predictions.

Advance Carried Prices About One-Half Cent Above Saturday's Low Figures, Which Caused Heavy Realizing, Under Which Market Sagged Off.

New York, October 22.—The cotton market had strong advance at the opening this morning, but lost part of the gain during the session, with the close steady at a net gain of 16@19 points. Sales were estimated at 250,000 bales. The opening was firm at an advance of 11@31 points and the active months generally were 30 to 34 points net higher, right after the call on covering by sellers of last week and a renewal of bull support, which was encouraged by higher cables than expected, and the expectation of bad weather in the southwest. The initial advance carrying January to 11.12, showed a recovery of about a half cent of the low point of Saturday morning, and naturally attracted heavy realizing, under which the market sagged off to around 11c for January. At this level there was active support from large interests, and following the publication of the western belt forecast prices rallied. This gain was not held, owing to heavier realizing in the late trading, and January closed at 10.99. Weather reports appeared to be the prime factor and cold rain with freezing temperatures in several sections were predicted for the southwest, with sentiment also influenced to some extent by reports of heavy snow storms from the north belt and fears that they would work down into the cotton country.

Receipts at the ports today 73,131 bales, against 68,601 last week and 46,815 last year. For the week (estimated) 420,000 bales, against 372,277 last week and 293,863 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 14,396 bales, against 8,168 last year, and at Houston 17,674, against 20,461 last year.

New Orleans Cotton Market.

New Orleans, October 22—Cotton spots closed steady and unchanged, middling 11 cents. Sales 4,100 bales and 4,150 to arrive. Futures opened steady 20 to 25 points higher on the prospect of cold weather in the western cotton belt. The cold weather predictions served to curtail selling and keep the market up for a time, but toward the closing the bullish sentiment from this source was partly discounted by the actual cotton movement, which is reported to be enormously heavy. The closing was steady 13 to 16 points net higher.

The Dry Goods Market.

New York, October 22.—Trade continues in full volume in dry goods. Many grades have been withdrawn from sale temporarily, as the mills have all the orders they can fill for the time being. Heavy cottons and brown cotton were heavy for the day. Colored cottons are sold ahead into March by the leading mills north and south. Raw silk is firm and active, and with high prices on some lines. Woolen goods are in better demand.

Liverpool Cotton Market.

Liverpool, October 22, 12:30 p. m.—Cotton, spots quiet; prices steady, 4 points higher; middling upland 6.17; sales 6,000 bales; speculation and export 500; receipts 7,000; American none.

Futures opened barely steady.

Gibert & Clay.

New Orleans, October 22.—COTTON—The Liverpool market showed a disinclination to meet the American prices until stimulated by forecasts of extremely cold weather. In the last two hours of their session, however, a sharp advance was recorded, options finally closing 18 1-2 points higher.

Our market opened at a considerable advance, and values were well maintained throughout the day. The severity of the weather on the east slope of the Rocky Mountains and assurance from the weather bureau in Washington that freezing temperatures would follow in portions of the belt induced support sufficient to readily absorb offerings. The spot market was steady with a somewhat larger volume of offerings. October commitments possibly not finally completed contributed to the very fair demand.

With greater interest in speculation, prices would probably be put higher, but this is not apparent as forthcoming, at the same time there is nothing to suggest that declines of moment will be observed in the immediate future, or until ideas can be formed concerning the injury, if any, to result from forecasted unfavorable weather.

New York, October 22.—STOCKS—There was no special leadership in the market's recovery this morning, as over-Saturday discussion has eliminated all [illegible]fluences against the security list ex-[illegible] stringency in London, which, though [illegible]developed is now recognized to have [illegible] of natural business conditions, [illegible]fore, perhaps temporary. Cur-[illegible] suggests that the secretary [illegible] may be contemplating [illegible] about half of the out-[illegible]ment 4s of 1907. The [illegible] is about $83,000,000, and this purchase would at once place in circulation a large part if not all of the available surplus in the United States treasury, while a refunding of these bonds into 2 per cent issues would make them available for national bank note circulation. This measure of finance and relief coming at this time would be very opportune and further strengthen the hands of American bankers in dealing with the monetary situation. As far as our relations with Europe are concerned, we appear to have enough circulation in the exchange market to make sure our holdings of recent gold imports in any event. It is quite logical to expect the London market tomorrow to make a show of strength in the effort of their operators to recover American stocks recently liquidated.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, October 22.—COTTON—Predictions of frost and rain over the cotton belt were the cause of the sharp advance abroad before the opening here, though the weather map did not show such conditions. There is, however, a severe cold wave in the northwest, which may move south, with the high barometer that entered the Pacific slope on Saturday morning. Today the market was supported rather than sustained by the strength of Liverpool. Therefore, unless we have a frost over the cotton belt during the next few days the market will not hold. Receipts are too heavy for the limited demand after the short interest has covered, and new speculation does not appear in any of the American markets. The course of prices, therefore, depends on the weather more than at any time this season.

Edmund & Charles Randolph.

Atlanta, October 22.—COTTON—Great unrest was created in the world's money markets by the action of the Bank of England in raising their rate of discount to 6 per cent. Drastic? Yes, but in the end will prove salutary, for it will check speculation in all departments, cause desired liquidation and adjustment of values more in line with sound business principles. To my mind it will be the means of averting a panic, rather than precipitating one, as many seem to think. Panics never come when money is dear, and our money market has been at high tension for some time. They come like a bolt of lightning from a clear sky, preceded by a money market as easy as an old shoe; at least, that is my observation. There will likely be more liquidation incident to the fortnightly settlement abroad this week, as carry over rates will be rather high, especially for Americans, which are being discriminated against in an endeavor to stop the outflow of gold to this country, but after the settlement is over with Wednesday, things will get back to their normal again and we will be better by John Bull's action and the very thorough house cleaning we have had. Even today an easier tendency is noted in the money market, and the shock of the sudden and radical action of governors of the Bank of England seems to be passing away. Naturally cotton, the king of all, had to bear its share of liquidation and decline with other things in the readjustment, but the position in this department will be much healthier hereafter. Friday and Saturday were wash days, so to speak, for cotton. Weak longs were run out on the decline, strong interests taking their places. Spots refused to follow in proportion the decline in futures, still remaining at a price above the spot month, both at New York and New Orleans. From a statistical standpoint our increase of over 500,000 bales at interior points over last year is certainly a very bearish item, yet this is offset to a large degree by the depleted stock of all kinds of cotton at Liverpool, which is only 239,000 bales, against 624,000 bales same time last year. It may be that this shrinkage has been caused by delays of exporters, incident to a more liberal indulgence by their clients abroad, to whom they owe the cotton, putting off delivery to a little later date. In any event, it would seem that in the very near future the better portion of our surplus stocks would find their way abroad, making up the depletion in that quarter, for the Englishman is not happy unless he has his share of this great commodity on his own shore. Today's cotton market was a strong one on this side as well as abroad. The foreign market showed considerable uneasiness over the weather forecast in the southwest, which was later confirmed with rains and freezing temperatures predicted more or less generally over that section. The eastern forecast was for partly cloudy weather. These two, together with the strength abroad, opened our market 16 to 30 points higher, and except for realizing fro mtime to time, causing a recession of 10 to 12 points, the market has been remarkably steady during the entire session, closing about 18 to 20 points higher than yesterday. Brokers supposed to represent Mr. Price have been heavy buyers of January around 11c, and the demand from this source tended to check any decline. If the weather turns out as badly as predicted, the advance may go further, but it is doubtful if support would be as great. Liverpool is due to show a decline of 1 1-2 to 2 points to meet our close. On these quick advances I prefer the short side of the market.

WHEAT WAS FIRM IN EARLY SESSION

Due to Small Movement in the Northwest

During Late Trading Offerings by Commission Houses Were Heavy, Causing a Gradual Decline. Receipts at Kansas City Were Heavy.

Chicago, October 22.—Lower cables and liberal receipts at Kansas City caused weakness today in the local wheat market. At the close wheat for December delivery was off 3-8c. Corn was a shade lower. Oats were down 3-8@1-2c. Provisions were a shade higher to 5c lower.

Despite lower prices at Liverpool, the wheat market here displayed considerable strength early in the day on a good demand by commission houses which was based upon a small movement in the northwest despite favorable weather for hte marketing or grain. As a result of this continued small movement, stocks of wheat at Minneapolis showed a decrease, an unusual condition at this season of the year. During the last hour of trading offerings became more liberal by commission houses with northern connections. There was also some selling for profit, but there was a gradual decline in prices. In the late selling, offerings were based on a report from Duluth estimating tomorrow's receipts at 500 cars in excess of today's arrivals, and the heavy receipts at Kansas City and the market closed weak. December opened 1-8@1-4 lower to 3-8c higher at 73 1-4 to 73 3-8c, sold off to 72 5-8c and closed at 72 5-8@72 3-4c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 495,000 bushels. The visible supply increased 2,040,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 1,591,000 bushels against 1,613,000 on the same day last year. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 79 cars against 1,096 last week and 1,206 one year ago.

The corn market became rather weak later in the day on selling by pit traders, who were influenced by the weakness of wheat. The market was firm early in the session because of the unsettled weather in parts of the corn belt. Trading in general was quiet and the market closed easy. December opened a shade to quarter cent higher at 42@42 1-8 to 42 1-4c, sold between 41 3-4 and 42 3-8c and closed at 41 7-8@42c. Local receipts, 319 cars, with 166 of contract grade.

Sentiment in the oat pit was firm early in the day in sympathy with wheat and corn, but later the market reacted on selling by cash houses and elevator concerns and closed weak. Local arrivals were larger than expected, the total receipts today being 401 cars. December oats opened unchanged at 33 1-8c, sold between 32 5-8 and 33 1-4c and closed at 32 5-8@32 3-4c.

Provisions were steady on the buying of January ribs by local packers. The total trading was small. At the close January pork was off five cents at $13.67 1-2. Lard was a shade higher at $8.22 1-2. Ribs were a shade lower at $7.42 1-2@7.45.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 82 cars; corn, 336 cars; oats, 281 cars; hogs, 21,000 head.

COTTON

New York, October 22.—In reply to many inquiries I am receiving in regard to the forthcoming ginners' report, I beg to say that my forecast will probably not be completed until Wednesday evening, and will then be communicated only to the ginners whose returns have made its compilation possible.

Generally speaking and without reference to the partial returns thus far received, I may say that it hardly seems practicable to reconcile the expectation of a crop of as much as 11,750,000 bales with a total ginning up to the 18th of October of less than 5,000,000 bales, around which figure the average opinion of the trade seems to have crystallized. In fact, a canvass of that opinion on the New York cotton exchange revealed an average expectation of 4,900,000, with 5,200,000 the highest and 4,575,000 the lowest figure. For the past four years the figures are as follows:

	Ginned to October 18.	Equal to Per cent.	Total crop.	September 1 Ginned prior.
Entire belt, 1905	5,012,011	47.4	10,575,017	483,843
Texas, 1905	1,495,206	58.8	2,541,932	266,766
Entire belt, 1904	6,420,994	47.8	13,438,012	387,607
Texas, 1904	2,205,186	70.1	3,145,372	285,467
Entire belt, 1903	3,703,626	37.6	9,861,129	17,390
Texas, 1903	1,030,778	41.7	2,471,081	6,899
Entire belt, 1902	5,683,006	53.5	10,630,945	(No record)
Texas, 1902	1,720,147	68.9	2,498,013	(No record)

Average four years entire belt, 46.6. Average four years Texas, 59.9.

From the above, it appears that the average proportion of the crop ginned up to the 18th of October has been 46.6, on which basis a total ginning of 5,000,000 bales, this year, would indicate a crop of 10,729,000.

While many lay stress on the lateness of this year's crop, as in a measure offsetting the small ginning figures thus far reported, it is well to bear in mind that in the state of Texas, which is mainly relied upon to furnish the lion's share of the yield this year, the crop is exceptionally early, more cotton having been ginned there prior to September 1 than in any year of which the census furnishes a record. Bearing this fact in mind, therefore, I am personally inclined to believe that it is safe to assume that the forthcoming report, whatever it may be, will show an amount ginned up to the 18th of October that is about 42 per cent of the total crop. It is also well to bear in mind, in making comparisons with last year, that the total crop ginned was only 10,575,000, and that the difference was a carry-over from the previous season, upon which we cannot reckon this year.

The petition of Walter T. Asamy, Mangoes Tani and M. White, of the City of New York, and Matsujiro Sakuma, showeth to the court as follows:

SOUTHERN RICE LAND AND CULTURE COMPANY.

The capital stock of said corporation is to be two hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($250,000.00), divided into shares of the par value of one hundred dollars ($100.00) each, but the privilege is asked to increase said capital stock to any sum not exceeding one million dollars ($1,000,000.00).

3.
The object and purpose of said corporation is pecuniary gain to the stockholders thereof.

4.
The particular business of said corporation is for the purpose of tilling and cultivating farming lands generally, and particularly rice lands, as rice farming and the production of rice is the special object of said corporation.

5.
Said corporation prays the right, power and authority to lease, buy, sell and mortgage lands, buildings, houses, cattle, machinery, tools and the power and right to manufacture and import implements as well as all other powers necessary to and beneficial to the purpose of said corporation.

6.
Said corporation prays also for such other general and usual powers as are granted corporations.

7.
The principal office and place of business of said corporation is Atlanta, Georgia, but authority is asked to establish branch agencies and offices in any other places in the State of Georgia, the United States, its colonies, or dependencies, or any foreign countries.

8.
Your petitioners further show that one hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars ($125,000.00) of the capital stock of the corporation has already been paid in and they ask that they be granted authority to commence business as soon as the organization of the corporation is perfected. Petitioners ask authority to establish and make by-laws, rules and regulations for the government of the corporation and to provide for officers, directors and agents thereof.

9.
Wherefore the premises considered, petitioners pray that they may be made and constituted a body corporate under the name and style aforesaid, with the rights, privileges, powers and authority prayed for to which such corporations are entitled under the laws of the State of Georgia, and they further pray that the court grant them an order for incorporation as aforesaid.

1.
That they desire for themselves, their associates, successors and assigns to be incorporated for a period of twenty years, with the privilege of renewal at the expiration of said time under the corporate name of SOUTHERN RICE LAND AND CULTURE COMPANY.

2.
The capital stock of said corporation is to be two hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($250,000.00), divided into shares of the par value of one hundred dollars ($100.00) each, but the privilege is asked to increase said capital stock to any sum not exceeding one million dollars ($1,000,000.00).

3.
The object and purpose of said corporation is pecuniary gain to the stockholders thereof.

4.
The particular business of said corporation is for the purpose of tilling and cultivating farming lands generally, and particularly rice lands, as rice farming and the production of rice is the special object of said corporation.

5.
Said corporation prays the right, power and authority to lease, buy, sell and mortgage lands, buildings, houses, cattle, machinery, tools and the power and right to manufacture and import implements as well as all other powers necessary to and beneficial to the purpose of said corporation.

6.
Said corporation prays also for such other general and usual powers as are granted corporations.

7.
The principal office and place of business of said corporation is Atlanta, Georgia, but authority is asked to establish branch agencies and offices in any other places in the State of Georgia, the United States, its colonies, or dependencies, or any foreign countries.

8.
Your petitioners further show that one hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars ($125,000.00) of the capital stock of the corporation has already been paid in and they ask that they be granted authority to commence business as soon as the organization of the corporation is perfected. Petitioners ask authority to establish and make by-laws, rules and regulations for the government of the corporation and to provide for officers, directors and agents thereof.

9.
Wherefore the premises considered, petitioners pray that they may be made and constituted a body corporate under the name and style aforesaid, with the rights, privileges, powers and authority prayed for to which such corporations are entitled under the laws of the State of Georgia, and they further pray that the court grant them an order for incorporation as aforesaid.

An Old Article With a New Name. How Its Value Was Proven.

Many years ago a celebrated physician gave an Atlanta lady a prescription for chapped hands and face that would keep the skin soft and healthy; few prescriptions ever written have been refilled as often as this one.

The lady was so delighted with the benefits derived from the preparation, she not only used it often herself, but advised her friends to try it and they in turn recommended it to others.

The druggist noting the demand and realizing its value, has decided to place it in reach of the public. Every bottle will be filled with the same care as the original prescription. The preparation positively prevents and cures chapped hands or face and keeps the skin soft and healthy, its ingredients are absolutely different and far superior to anything on the market.

"Snowcream" will be the trade mark name and a limited supply is now on sale at Avary Drug Store, 78 North Broad street, until a few details are arranged when it will be on sale at all drug stores.

RUSH WAS MADE TO BUY STOCKS

Declines of Last Week Were Nearly Wiped Out.

Something More Than Sentiment in the Eagerness to Buy Manifested Monday—Hope Felt That Relief Measures Will Be Forthcoming.

New York, October 22.—There was a violent rebound in prices of stocks today, which went far to wipe out the previous declines of Friday and Saturday. The interval after the market closed on Saturday, after a state of demoralization until it opened today, saw some important developments, and gave rise to rumors of others of still greater importance. The consequence was a revulsion in sentiment which sent stock operators scrambling to buy stocks who had made desperate efforts to sell them at any price on Saturday. Owing to the fact that much of the selling on Saturday was in the nature of short contracts there was something more than sentiment in the eagerness to secure stocks on the rapid rise today. In fact, there was a considerable subsidence in the force of the demand when the needs of the uncovered short interest had ben supplied.

As there is no loan market at the stock exchange on Saturday, loans made on Friday must have been based more on apprehension of pressure to come than on any actual curtailment of credits. Results of the Bank of England's 6 per cent discount rate in the world's markes were much less htan were feared. In the market for call money, after lending at 7 per cent, it fell back immediately to 6 per cent, and later in the day considerably below that point. This could not have been due to any actual replenishment supplies over those available on Friday. Very confident hopes were engendered, however, that relief measures would be forthcoming. The nature of this relief was left in the realm of conjecture during the day, though there was credible authority for the current belief. The first of such measures to receive attention was the rumored agreement of the Bank of France to transfer as a loan $30,000,000 to $40,000,000 to the Bank of England.

The presence in New York of the secretary of the treasury was accepted as assurance tht tresury mesures of relief were to be forthcoming for the New York money mrket. Further deposits of government funds with the national banks also was regarded as a possible recourse.

The time money market held strong, and no loans were made below 6 per cent, while for sixty and ninety days the asking rate was advanced to 6 1-2 per cent. The market was regarded as an ample demonstration of continued control by the financial powers which have dominated the situation for some time past. The failure of a stock exchange member was practically without effect on the market. The day's extreme advances of 9 1-2 for Anaconda, 7 for Great Great Northern preferred, 4 1-2 for Reading and Northern Pacific, 3 to 3 1-2 for Union Pacific, St. Paul, Amalgamated Copper and Smelting and 1 to 3 points in many other active stocks serve to indicate the important extent of the recovery from last week's severe losses. The market closed strong with the gains well maintained.

Bonds were firm. Total sales, par value, $2,164,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Money on call firm at 3@7 per cent; ruling rate, and closing bid 3; offered at 3. Time loans strong; sixty and ninety days 6@6 1-2 per cent; six months 6.

Prime mercantile paper 6@6 1-2. Sterling exchange strong; closing firm with actual business in bankers' bills at 4.8545@4.8450 for demand, and at 4.8060@4.8065 for sixty-day bills. Posted rates 4.80 1-2@4.81 and 4.86@4.86 1-2. Commercial bills 4.79 3-4.

New York, October 22.—COTTON.—The cotton market was fairly active today and the tone generally firm, in consequence of an apparently unlimited buying order in the hands of a prominent authority, who was an active bidder every time th market declined to a point around 11c for January. The foreign market was better and shorts of recent creation were anxious to cover in view of the more favorable advices current relative to foreign affairs. The local professionals seemed disposed to work for an irregular market until after the bureau report is issued next Thursday and under the circumstances feverish conditions are expected to prevail during the next week. The movement continued fairly good today, the ports aggregate 62,000 bales, against 48,000 bales last year. The interior movement was somewhat larger, and it is apparent that interior ginners are working in an effort to get farmers to ship cotton. The spot markets were steady, though the general statistics were sufficiently diversified to permit of expression of views in both directions. Consequently consumers are likely to pick cautiously, especially since some statisticians maintain that spinners have supplies which will carry them over until next February. The speculative market will, in all probability, continue irregular until after the ginners' report is issued.

Ware & Leland.

New York, October 22.—COTTON—Buying orders from this side caused a rapid advance in the Liverpool market this morning, and as a result prices there were some 20 to 22 points higher at one time during the day. In response to this the local market advanced sharply, about 30 points, with trading on an enormous scale and excitement quite general, a cold wave in the Rocky mountain region sending off lower temperatures as far south as the northern portion of the western belt, brought out predictions of frost in the territories and northern Texas tonight, and fully accounted for the efforts to advance prices. The upturn was rather unexpected as far as rapidity was concerned, but when the nature of operation is fully recognized the advance was well explained. In order to understand the advance of about 50 points from Saturday's opening, it is necessary to say that a very large operator who sold out on the advance above 11c and went short, not only covered all his cotton on the break, but bought an enormous quantity for an advance. More was bought this morning, and with buying for 5,000 or 10,000 bales distributed around after long cotton had been cleared out on stop loss orders last week, it was not difficult to advance prices. Operators are now waiting the effect of the frost news on the spinners.

Chicago, October 22.—WHEAT—In the face of lower Liverpool cables, the better financial outlook on the other side had much to do with our opening strength in wheat. Together with this, northwest receipts ran much under last year, and weather in the section tended much to curtail receipts in that section. Winnipeg started a large numbers of cars on way to that market with threshing machines at work capable of threshing from 6,000,000 to 10,000,000 bushels per day, which would supply all present demand easily, and cash wheat was in poor request, the selling orders from that section rather swamped our market, which became weak and remained so until the close. New investment buying was not in evidence, and the demand was simply from shorts. The visible supply increased but 764,000 bushels, against 2,757,000 a year ago. It was argued the spring wheat movement had but just started, and our present visible 10,000,000 more than last year, with large stocks here. It would seem the present price should invite some investment buying, but with the liquidation which is on a little further decline may be in order.

CORN—Weather conditions through the southwest had much to do with opening this morning, firm, but anticipating an improvement, the bear crowd sold freely and were aided somewhat by the weakness in wheat. Withal, the market held well and a good short interest made by locals.

OATS have been weak and the local crowd, who have followed the long side, became good sellers. The cash demand has been slow and the December kind suffered the most in consequence. The northwest were good sellers on hedging lines. The eastern car situation curtails a good movement, which would be in evidence at present, and with the raise of the blockade a better market will result.

PROVISIONS—A good demand for lard held it firm, while pork and ribs were a little lower in sympathy with grain.

Foreign Finances.

London, October 22.—The tone of the stock exchange generally this morning was much more hopeful, operators having about concluded that the 6 per cent discount rate of the Bank of England would prove effective in stemming the outflow of gold.

American securities had an exciting morning. Saturday's break in Wall street caused a heavy liquidation here, and there were many sales from the continent. At the opening, values were over a point below parity, but good support was soon forthcoming and there was quite a boom before noon, prices being rushed up 2 points from the lowest quotations, and the whole list practically recovered the parity loss. For instances Union Pacific, which was offered at 184 recovered the parity loss. For instances, which was offered at 176 1-4, went up to 179. Some good American buying orders helped the recovery, which also was aided by the report that the Bank of France was prepared to assist the Bank of England to the extent of $30,000,000 or $40,000,000 in gold.

Later in the session there was further improvement in Americans on New York buying and covering by the bears. The close was steady at a fraction below the best prices of the day.
